

Small business minister visits Woy Woy

Minister for Small Business Ms Katrina Hodgkinson and Member for Gosford Mr Chris Holstein met with local business leaders in Woy Woy in the week of Monday, October 7.

The key issues discussed were aspects of payroll tax, further reduction of red tape, the importance of liaison between State and Federal governments for small business and positive feedback of the Small Biz Bus's recent visits.

The Minister met with NSW Business Chamber (Central Coast) regional manager Mr Daniel Farmer, Gosford Chamber of Commerce president Ms Ali Vidler, Gosford Business Improvement District manager Mr Paul Brasch.

"The NSW Liberals and Nationals Government is committed to supporting the State's small businesses," Mr Holstein said.

Mr Holstein said that Ms Hodgkinson's achievements included the roll out of Small Biz Connect, the allocation of $13.8 million in 2013-14 for small business, including $7.5 million for the Small Biz Connect program by the NSW Liberals and Nationals Government, and the launch of two Small Biz Buses.

He said she had implemented the election commitment to ensure agencies paid bills to their small business suppliers within 30 days, or automatically pay interest on the outstanding amount.

She had also implemented a "one on two off" policy to reduce red tape, helping small businesses across NSW overcome the administrative burden and had established the State's first Small Business Commissioner as an independent statutory officer.

He said the Commissioner has enhanced powers to investigate complaints about unfair treatment of small businesses, require local councils, government bodies and other businesses to provide information or answer questions, when a complaint is made and submit to Parliament a special report, including recommendations on small business issues.

Under the legislation, the Commissioner also has the power to require businesses to attend compulsory mediation to resolve disputes prior to commencing legal action.

Radio tower to be built in Woy Woy

Gosford Council has approved an application for a 20 metre high radio communications tower at Woy Woy.

The application retains an existing workshop on the site at 51 Ocean Beach Rd, near the corner of Rawson Rd.

The applicant had submitted significant detail and photomontages identifying the site selection process and the visual impact on the subject character as a result of this development.

The report received by council at its ordinary meeting of Tuesday, October 15, indicated that given the nature of the proposed development, it was difficult to diminish the visual impact of the structure.

According to the report, the tower needed to be clear of interference from trees and other potential screen elements.

Despite the tower being visually imposing, the report stated that the proposed site did not detract significantly from the character of the immediate locality.

Council required the tower to be constructed and finished in colours that are complementary to the surrounding environment.

Council has also stipulated that further investigations are required to ascertain the presence of acid sulphate soils.

If present, a management plan will need to be prepared in accordance with the Acid Sulphate Soil Manual, Acid Sulphate Soil Management Advisory Committee, August 1998.

Council acts to help reduce insurance costs

Gosford Council will share detailed flood mapping data with the insurance industry to assist with developing pricing premiums to better suit individual property risk.

The council has started discussions with the Insurance Council of Australia in response to residents complaining about increasing insurance costs resulting from flood risk classification.

Gosford Council's director environment and planning Ms. Danielle Dickson said that when insurance companies have limited information available, the insurer must charge based on uncertainty and a worst case scenario.

She said that the cost of insurance relied heavily on the availability of detailed flood information, such as the floor level of properties that occupied the floodplain.

"Now that council can share our detailed information, insurers will have more specific data.

"For example, although an address is on a floodplain, it may only be exposed to 1:100 year flooding at shallow depths.

"This means a premium can be calculated based on this lower level of risk, reducing the cost for individual property owners and basing premiums on more accurate levels of individual property risk.

"It just makes sense to us that this comprehensive technical data is shared with the public and the insurance industry to the benefit of our ratepayers and residents," Ms Dickson said.

The current West Gosford intersection

Contract let for West Gosford intersection

A contract for the upgrade of the Brisbane Water Dr and Manns Rd intersection to improve safety and traffic flow has been awarded to Seymour Whyte Constructions Pty Ltd.

The announcement was made on Friday, October 18, by Roads Minister Mr Duncan Gay, Minister for the Central Coast Mr Chris Hartcher and Member for Gosford Mr Chris Holstein.

"The NSW Government committed $180 million toward the upgrade which will greatly benefit Central Coast road users by improving safety and improving travel times," Mr Holstein said.

"The project involves widening the Central Coast Highway and realigning Brisbane Water Dr and Manns Rd to form a single intersection with traffic lights.

"A new road link will be built between Corumbene Rd and Grieve Close which will pass under the Central Coast Highway to connect Jusfrute Dr and Manns Rd industrial areas," he said.

"In a win for Central Coast motorists, the project cost has been revised to $170 million with a $10 million saving to be reallocated to upgrade the Terrigal Dr and Charles Kay Dr intersection a year earlier than planned.

"Roads and Maritime Services has carried out early work for the Brisbane Water Dr and Manns Rd upgrade including demolition, relocation of utilities, installation of noise walls and stormwater drainage and building work of local access roads for use during the work," Mr Holstein said.

"Building work for the Brisbane Water Dr and Manns Rd intersection is expected to start in November this year and be completed in late 2016, weather permitting," he said.

Council to review planning scheme

Gosford Council will review its new planning scheme, inviting local land owners to make submissions about the Gosford LEP 2013.

A report will be prepared for the council outlining any recommended amendments to the LEP.

While the draft Gosford LEP is still awaiting gazettal, this process will allow the council to have any possible changes considered as soon as this has taken place.

The adoption of the draft LEP is seen as a chance to revitalize and facilitate some much needed development and enhancement of the City.

Cr Craig Doyle said the LEP had been kicking around in Gosford for some time now.

"We finally have our LEP ready to go, but why do we have differences between our LEP and Wyong's LEP?"

A workshop will be conducted before December 31 to compare the Gosford LEP and Wyong LEP, with the view of creating similar planning legislation across the Central Coast.

Cr Bob Ward voted against the decision and said he didn't think it was necessary to compare Gosford's LEP with Wyong's.

Cr Hillary Morris also voted against the decision in support of Cr Ward.

O'Neill seeks Senate seat

Former Member for Robertson Ms Deborah O'Neill has announced her intention to nominate for the Senate following the resignation of Bob Carr.

With a casual vacancy arising in the Senate, Ms O'Neill has thrown her hat into the ring for the seat.

"I intend to nominate for the Senate so I can continue to serve the people of the Central Coast, and those across NSW," said Ms O'Neill.

"Across the state, there are very many people who did not vote for the current government.

"They are people who hold Labor values dear.

"I would like to be a voice for them in the Senate and with my Labor colleagues provide the very necessary scrutiny of the Abbott government. "Locally, there is not a single Labor member in the State or Federal Parliaments.

"Wall to wall Liberal party is not a good reality for locals on the Central Coast.

"I believe we need a Labor voice in the mix to try to hold back the worst excesses of the cuts the Liberals have in store for our local economy and communities.

"We also need a strong voice in the Parliament to make sure that the new Government is held to account for its promises to our region and across the State of NSW.

"If I am the successful nominee and become a NSW Senator, I would be proud to accept the opportunity to establish a stake in the ground for Labor on the Coast and continue my work for our local community and the people of NSW," Ms O'Neill said.

No new bus shelters are planned

A Woy Woy resident has been told that no new bus shelters are planned in coming years, because its budget was allocated to maintenance and disability compliance

A petition with more than 90 signatures had been sent to Gosford Council by residents of Woy Woy for a bus shelter to be installed in Hillview St near the corner of Nambucca Ave.

Local resident Mr Wayne Iles said he had been trying to have a bus shelter installed in the street for three years

He said he had written to Gosford Council regarding his concerns for people using the bus stop, some of which included elderly people, mothers with prams and people with disabilities.

"There is nowhere to escape the rain and very hot weather," Mr Iles said.

Council replied to Mr Iles and said there would be no new Council funded bus shelters installed in the coming years.

The council was currently prioritising bus facility works based on maintenance of existing bus shelters due to safety issues and the Disability Discrimination Act for Transport Stops.

This did not include the placement of shelters or seats, he was told.

Cycleway extension to proceed

Gosford Council has received on a shared funding for the construction of a 2.5 metre wide concrete footpath and cycleway from McMasters Rd south along to The Esplanade at Ettalong.

The footpath will be constructed south along Blackwall Rd,

Memorial Ave, Barrenjoey Rd and down Uligandi St towards the existing shared pathway along The Esplanade.

To enable council to construct the pathway, road widening will be required from the frontage of one private property on Memorial Ave between Lalina Ave and Wyalong Rd, Blackwall.

The proposed road widening will provide the minimum footway width to accommodate utility services and allow the construction of the concrete shared pathway.

The property owner impacted by the proposed road widening has been advised and a site inspection held, which resulted in his agreement in principal to the extent of the acquisition.

The Property Services Unit will manage the proposed acquisition transactions in accordance with council's Land Transition Policy.

A deed of release will be entered into between council and the owner as is required as part of the process to formalise the acquisition.

Summer crackdown starts

Brisbane Water police can be expected to be seen more frequently on the Peninsula with the launch of a summer crackdown on alcohol-related crime and violence.

Operation Saber began on Sunday, October 13, and will run until April next year.

It is a high visibility proactive police operation that has been specifically designed to improve community safety.

The operation will focus on bail compliance, high visibility policing, warrant enforcement, high risk offender targeting, alcohol related crime and anti-social behaviour, licensed premises compliance and street level drug offences.

Brisbane Water Local Area Commander Superintendent Danny Sullivan said the campaign had been developed to disrupt criminal activity within the area and reduce alcohol related violence and anti-social behaviour.

"During the warmer months of the year, we see a spike in issues such as out of control parties, large anti-social gatherings of youth and serious offences including alcohol and drug abuse.

"Operation Saber will see additional police rostered to combat these issues with high visibility policing with intelligence-based deployment.

"The campaign will ensure the community can enjoy our vibrant coastal culture free from alcohol related violence and anti-social behaviour."

Council investment 'above benchmark'

Gosford Council has received its investment report for August at its Ordinary Meeting of Tuesday, October 15.

With the cash rate forecast to stay at 2.50 per cent for the next 12 months, term deposit rates above four per cent per annum are becoming increasingly rare.

Therefore, as council's existing term deposits mature, reinvestment will likely be in lower yielding options.

However, it is expected that council can continue to achieve above benchmark returns with prudent investment selection from its short and long term holdings.

As at August 31, council's investment portfolio had a current market valuation of $106,219,955 or the hold to maturity value (face value) of $113,003,968.

When compared to the previous month, of the eight structured securities held, 75 per cent showed an increase in their market value.

The net market value increase for the period was $118,644.

Council's investment portfolio return outperformed the bank bill index benchmark during the month, 4.63 per cent per annum versus 2.76 per cent per annum.

Council's portfolio is expected to return above benchmark returns if there are no further credit events within its CDO portfolio, as the CDO portfolio is currently valued at low levels.

Without marked-to-market influences, council's investment portfolio yielded 4.25 per cent per annum during the month.

Residents want buses removed

Gosford Council has received a petition with 93 signatures from residents of Davis St, Booker Bay, who said they had concerns regarding safety of pedestrians.

Residents suggested that buses be removed from Davis St, which would greatly reduce the risk of injury or death to pedestrians.

Residents further suggested that when Davis St was made safe, for example with a two carriage roadway with kerb and guttering, pedestrians would be able to walk on pavements not roadways and then buses could be reinstated.

Residents have requested that council make Davis St, Booker Bay, safe for all pedestrians.

Council may look at storm water

Gosford Council has advised 13 residents who submitted a petition regarding storm water runoff and drainage along Pomona Rd and Wards Hill Rd, Empire Bay, that consideration would be given to completing the works in this financial year.

Petitioners stated that storm water from Maitland Bay Dr drained over the allotments in Pomona Rd and collected into the open drainage system located on the southern side of Pomona Rd.

The stormwater from Pomona Rd then discharged under Pomona

Rd via a concrete pipe to the lower level properties located on the northern side of Pomona Rd.

This stormwater then flowed over land through the adjoining properties flooding dwellings, eroding foundations and footings to dwellings, eroding soil around fencing and causing dampness under suspended dwellings, according to the residents.

Creek beds-channels became flooded creating unsanitary conditions for the residents and the issue was ongoing, they said.

PCYC helps clean up Hawkesbury

A volunteer group of seven people from Umina PCYC conducted a litter clean-up at Long Island on the Hawkesbury River on Monday, 14 October.

The task on the day saw volunteers remove unwanted litter from the foreshores of Long Island and transfer several bulk items to Rob Moxham's oyster shed for future bin collection.

The crew from Umina PCYC collected a large amount of polystyrene and plastic bottles as well as larger items including timber boat decking, a school whiteboard, polystyrene surf board, rubber matting, buckets and a car bumper bar.

The area around the Railway Bridge pylon had a large amount of litter with three bags filled with bottles, cans and paper products.

In total, 14 full bags of litter were deposited at the Hornsby Council bins at Parsley Bay.

Areas surrounding the Little Wobby foreshore had larger items including two damaged kayaks, a car tyre and deck chair.

An aluminium boat, still in good condition, was washed up on some rocks suspected from the previous day's windy conditions.

The registration number was photographed and NSW Maritime was contacted.

Minor correction

In the last edition of Peninsula News, the article on page 22 titled Major Singles incorrectly stated that the Major Singles Final had been held.

The heading should have read Minor Singles and the story should have detailed the Minor Singles Final.

Petition leads to tree trimming

Gosford Council will trim a tree in Edward St, Woy Woy, after a petition was received from the local Member of Parliament on behalf of local residents seeking its removal.

As a result of the petition, council will remove any dead wood of a reasonable size, remove branches that are interfering with power lines and inspect and take action about the petitioners' footpath concerns.

The petition, which had 17 signatures, stated that the old tree had branches imposing on the footpath which caused much distress to the disabled, elderly on motorised scooters, mothers with prams and the vision impaired.

Petitioners requested that Council investigate the matters raised.

Financial planner comes in second

Woy Woy resident Mr Troy Chapman has come second in a field of almost 800 financial planners in Value of Advice Awards.

His financial planning practice Country Wide Wealth competed against the other financial planners in the dealer group Charter Financial Planning.

Mr Chapman was recognised for his role in assisting a Central Coast woman who had been diagnosed with cancer.

He ensured that the client received the right amount of money at the right time and in the right hands.

She had previously seen a different adviser and unfortunately had been given poor advice that meant that while she suffered a claimable health event she would not personally have received any money.

Mr Chapman was able to turn the tables and made sure the client was able to receive the money where she needed it most while significantly reducing her personal tax liabilities in the process.

Mr Chapman said coming runner-up on the night was an honour.

"It was nice to be recognised by the industry for some of the hard work that I put in every day improving the lives of local families on the Central Coast whether it be through saving them money, providing correct levels of insurance or helping to build them wealth.

"We aim to provide valuable advice for every one of our clients that will help to change their lives for the better – with any luck the industry will recognise Country Wide Wealth again in a year or two and we'll take out the top award," said Mr Chapman.

LOCAL CHIROPRACTORS SAY GOODBYE AND THANKS

Keith White and Jennifer Gobbos - Chiropractors have been in practice on the Peninsula for nearly 25 years. Keith and Jennifer commenced practicing chiropractic together in Umina - May 1989 and Kincumber - February 1991. Both have a strong bond with the Central Coast as both have grown up on the coast Keith @ Umina and Jennifer @ Pretty Beach.

It is with a heavy heart they say their goodbyes to the people of the Peninsula. Keith has retired from chiropractic and Jennifer continues to practice but ONLY from her Kincumber office.

We would like to express our THANKS and GRATITUDE for your support and commitment by choosing to come to our centre for your chiropractic needs. When you look after people for 20+ years you feel an attachment and it has been difficult for us to accept that this era has now come to an end.

We THANK YOU for being a big part of our lives and wish you all good health and happiness.

Groynes needed at Ettalong

The hundreds of tonnes of sand excavated some years ago from the now Mantra Resort construction site were dumped on the beach at Ettalong in almost the same position as where the sand from the current dredging is being stockpiled.

The Mantra sand was washed away within months and erosion of the beach, if anything, accelerated.

If that was an exercise in re-establishing a beach, it was a total and avoidable disaster.

Following this apparently very poor exercise in engineering, I wrote to council suggesting that to prevent any occurrence, correctly designed, positioned, and constructed groynes were an obvious solution to the problem.

For centuries, such groynes have successfully protected the many very exposed beaches around the coastlines of the UK and Western Europe from the fury of severe winter storms.

To date in the reclamation, it appears that Gosford Council engineers have again seen fit to ignore Mother Nature by not building groynes or other sand retaining measures.

As a result, the dredged sand is already being washed back into Brisbane Waters.

If there are no plans to promptly construct groynes or similar protective measures on the beach, the council should immediately sack those responsible for this stupidity and waste of rate-payers money, and commence construction of some means of retaining the sand on the beach.

Vic Jefferies, (Peninsula News, October 1) reckons the new involvement of the rank and file of the ALP in selecting their Federal Parliamentary leader, is “costly, inefficient and wasteful”.

But, you could say, so is a democratic election, costly, inefficient and wasteful.

Kevin Rudd has chosen a great democratic reform, perhaps for some personal reasons, and as a safeguard against being sacked, but in my mind, it is a great reform.

Hazards of the roads

Footpaths are a hazard around the Coast but the roads are worse.

It seems to me that most drivers are so intent on getting in front of the next car that they will risk hell and hell and high water.

Any method, to get in front.

If they stopped and thought about it, there will always be a car in front, unless lemmings like them drive over a cliff.

Strangely again, most of these lead foots will crawl at a difficult intersection thus making it nearly impossible for others to get out.

Traffic lights are horrendous also.

The little green men who operate them, if they have a nark on you, as they do against me, they immediately switch the light from green to red and keep it on red as long as they can.

“That took the smile off his face,” they chuckle.

I tell you it’s safer and less stressful to stay in bed, as the Yankee Hip poet said, “The man who is paranoid has got it damn right”.

Local employees recognised for workmanship

The Rotary Club of Umina Beach held its Pride of Workmanship Awards presentation on Wednesday, October 16, with awards given to outstanding employees who take pride in their work.

Awards were presented to Umina Beach Bakers Delight baker Mr Glen Illiss, Peninsular Village maintenance manager Mr Bill McCarthy, Peninsular Village care worker Ms Rebecca Pearl and Everglades Country Club customer care waiter Mr Troy Dove.

Mr Illiss was nominated by his employer, Rosemarie Mondal, who said Glenn joined them when he was a young 15-year-old and worked as a sales frontline staff member.

After passing his HSC Glenn then chose a career in the baking industry.

He is now a third year apprentice baker and will qualify next year.

Ms Mondal said he showed 100 per cent effort in all that he undertook and had a passion for his job.

Mr McCarthy was nominated by Peninsular Village environmental services manager Ms Jackie Bennett who said Bill had worked as the maintenance manager at Peninsular Village since July 2006.

Ms Bennett said Bill was on call 24 hours a day, seven days per week, juggling family life and work, all with good humour.

Glenn Illiss, Bill McCarthy, Rotary Vocational Service Director Glen Scorer, Rebecca Pearl and Troy Dove.

"Bill goes above and beyond to help both residents and staff whether it be a large or a small job," said Ms Bennett.

"Bill also runs a very efficient and busy department while maintaining a great working relationship with his staff."

Ms Pearl was nominated by Peninsular Village executive care manager Ms Melinda Dempsey who said Ms Pearl had been with Peninsular Village as a care service employee since 2007.

"Rebecca shows true commitment to the organisations philosophy of care and is 'person centred' in her approach when caring for our residents," said Ms

Dempsey.

"Rebecca puts the person before the task."

Mr Dove was nominated by Rotary Club of Umina Beach director Mr Shane Johnson and said that after moving from Wollongong in 2007, Troy started at the Everglades Bistro.

"His early beginnings were as a kitchen hand and he has moved his way, through hard work and determination, always with a smile, to his current role of customer service," said Mr Johnson.

"In this role he has used his welcoming personality to add value to the business by ensuring all customers in his dining room are happy and satisfied with all of the elements of their dining experience.

"Troy has looked after the Rotary Club of Umina Beach weekly dinner meetings for the last 12 months and he is appreciated by all members as he always goes the 'extra mile' to ensure the room is set up correctly, our meal is to our satisfaction and most importantly, that the coffee is hot."

The Rotary term Pride of Workmanship has the slogan of "do it once, do it well, build a better Australia".

"As a club we congratulate the recipients of these awards and wish them well in their careers," said Rotary Club of Umina Beach director and chairman of public relations Mr Geoff Melville.

CAN CHIROPRACTIC CARE ASSIST THE ELDERLY?

These days what is elderly?

What used to be considered 'old' at 60 is now only 'senior' at 80!

How many people can you think of who look as though they're in their fifties and then you discover they are well over 65 or even 70?

To find that you're adding on the years can be a little daunting for some – but it doesn't mean that you have to put up with the discomfort of aching backs, shoulders or limbs.

What tends to happen though is that aching limbs and joints are often disregarded due to the "I'm just getting old" syndrome.

Well, just because you may be adding a few years, is no reason to put up with pain or even discomfort.

Senior age groups often ask whether they can take advantage of chiropractic care and if it will help to alleviate problems with shoulder, hip and other joints without jeopardising them.

The answer is a definite 'yes'.

There are a number of treatable conditions of the body as age increases; we just have to know precisely where the condition is and what is causing it.

The first step is to ask the question of a chiropractor – if you don't ask the question, you will never know the answer.

"Can you do anything for me?" is probably the simplest approach to your chiropractor.

We will then be able to examine the facts of your individual circumstances, assess the pain and its causes and then tell you how chiropractic care can benefit you.

The result will invariably be greater mobility and your body's ability to function better.

Many modern seniors are tending to shy away from over-medication for pain-relief, realising that through chiropractic care they are becoming pain-free and mobile to do the things they want to do, but without the fear of side-effects.

The concern that some have is in connection with chiropractic care and osteoporosis or other ailments. This doesn't have to be a concern because, with the necessary modifications applied to the individual's condition, chiropractic nurture is being used on a regular basis to alleviate such conditions with no after or side effects.

Indeed, many senior recipients of chiropractic care are consistently reporting freedom from pain and a markedly improved mobility, coupled with a noticeable reduction in arthritic symptoms.

Your friendly team here at Umina Chiropractic Centre believes in you and your body's ability to be well.

We look forward to being a part of your journey to wellness

Cyclists don't see the vision-impaired

Vision impaired Pearl Beach resident Robert Lillico has urged road users to watch out for visually impaired pedestrians.

Suffering from a degenerative eye condition retinitis pigmentosa, Mr Lillico used a long white cane to get around and said he struggled to cross the road safely.

He said it seemed to be especially problematic with cyclists as he was unable to hear the bikes.

"When you step off the footpath there always seems to be a bike that tries to rip through even though the lights have changed," said Mr Lillico.

Mr Lillico said he supported Guide Dogs NSW-ACT's upcoming Watch Out, Cane About road campaign that launched on International White Cane Day on Tuesday, October 15.

Guide Dogs NSW-ACT has revealed new figures showing one in two clients who are blind or vision impaired have had a near miss with a vehicle over the past five years while trying to cross the road.

The figures also revealed one in 15 have actually been struck by a vehicle.

"I've almost been hit," said Mr Lillico.

"It's a terrible feeling because you can't see or hear them and for a split second you're wondering if you might end up flat on your back.

"I have to now remember not to step off the footpath as soon as the lights change and always have my cane out in front of me but nine times out of 10 I'm sure cyclists don't see it or me," he said.

To help raise driver awareness, Guide Dogs NSW-ACT has launched TV and radio community service announcements and an educational video on YouTube highlighting some key Dos and Don'ts tips for motorists.

FREE Hearing Aid Trials

"Testimonial from league legend Brett Kenny"

"I've been a client of Peninsula Hearing and Louise Brown for a number of years and have found them to be very helpful and accommodating. I've had a few minor emergencies at times with my aids and Louise has always been available to either fix the problem then and there or supply alternative aids until the others are fixed. It was Louise that introduced me to Phonak hearing aids and the Phonak ComPilot. I was sceptical at first but once I began using the hearing aids along with the ComPilot it improved my life and increased my confidence. I'm now confident when in a group conversation and have become more outgoing and social. Having the ComPilot to help adjust volume and answer my mobile hands free has made life more enjoyable and easier! I have no hesitation in recommending Peninsula Hearing if you have hearing difficulties and Phonak hearing aids and ComPilot to improve your hearing and way of life."

Mary Mac's garage sale raises $4400

Mary Mac's Place in Woy Woy held a Giant Garage Sale on Saturday, October 19, raising $4400.

Mary Mac's Place project officer Ms Christine Burge said the sale received an overwhelming response with thousands of people turning up.

"It was a huge success.

"The whole hall was chock-a-block.

"We would love to do it again," said Ms Burge.

Funds raised will go toward continuing the work of Mary Mac's Place.

Mary Mac's Place assists people in need by serving a

"We've had successful year of fundraising, which is good because we don't get any ongoing funding and we survive on donations," said Ms Burge.

Mary Mac's Place is currently on the lookout for people to join its fundraising publicity committee.

"We'd like to be a bit savvy and develop a Facebook page and we've recently got involved with Timebanking," said Ms Burge.

"We welcome anyone who is willing to donate their skills."

Party in pink for cancer prevention

A Party in Pink was held at the Ocean Beach Hotel on Saturday, October 19, to raise money toward a global research grant for breast cancer prevention.

To help raise funds local Umina Zumba instructor, Melanie Stenning, hosted the event which included raffle prizes, lucky door prizes and a best dressed competition.

DJ Jeff Hindmarsh was also be on hand to pump out the music and lights.

In addition, the Ocean Beach Hotel painted the Hotel pink in honour of Breast Cancer Awareness and had a Pink impersonator perform.

"The Party in Pink campaign is one I am very proud to be involved in," said Ms Stenning.

"Unfortunately most of us know someone who has been affected by breast cancer, which is why it is so important for us to keep raising funds to assist research into breast cancer prevention so we can understand how to prevent this disease before it occurs.

"What makes the Party in Pink campaign so special is that we are bringing together the community no matter what age or fitness level to have some fun, get fit and, by helping to fund research for a preventative solution to this critical disease, it is our hope that we will be able to touch, and ultimately save, millions of more lives."

Funds raised will go toward a study that will evaluate the effects of lignan found in flaxseed on premenopausal woman as a safe, low-cost, highly accessible solution to help prevent breast cancer on a global scale.

Volunteers from The Croft help clean-up

Brisbane Water Secondary College volunteer teachers and students from The Croft helped in a clean-up of the Henderson Rd mangroves and Rileys Island on Thursday, October 17, as part of the Brisbane Water Foreshore Program Clean4shore.

The mangroves were cleaned by the four students and three teachers in windy conditions with 10 bags stacked for pickup as well as several larger items.

Inspection of the man-made track through the mangroves found approximately 40 tyres lying beneath tidal water which were used to keep feet from getting wet, but restricting growth of local mangroves.

"Apart from the tyres, this section of mangroves is now relatively clean," said Clean4shore coordinator Mr Graham Johnston.

The northern tip of Rileys Island was also inspected which revealed old oyster trays and hardwood stakes, as well as plenty of small litter on dry land.

The area is now free of the white oyster trays and leases.

Maths review at Umina

A number of teachers from Umina Public School, including deputy principal Mr Paul Farrugia, will undertake an evaluation over the coming weeks as part of the school's mathematics review.

The school is presently in the third year of review of mathematics teaching and learning across all years.

"This review will help us better plan learning activities and improve the children's understanding," said Mr Farrugia.

"As part of this process we will be talking to randomly-selected students, teachers and caregivers during the next few weeks, analysing the results and planning the way ahead for the next three years.

"The evaluation will be conducted by several teachers and will be led by myself.

"Groups of students will discuss the maths learning with the team.

"Teachers will provide their thoughts by way of discussion and selected parents will be contacted by phone to seek their opinions.

"Information collected this year will be compared and collated with data collected in 2011 and 2012."

More rubbish from mangroves

A volunteer group, consisting of 14 students and four teachers from Brisbane Water Secondary College, participated in a clean-up of Henderson Rd Mangroves and the Northern tip of Rileys Island on Friday, October 18, as part of the Brisbane Waters Foreshore Program.

Local oyster grower Simon

Funnel was unavailable to operate his barge for the group due to commitments with the Rural Fire Service, but fellow oyster grower Todd Ellis was able to assist.

The Henderson Rd bulk was loaded with additional litter picked up by the group.

Good peak high tide allowed the IRBs to get in close to the Rileys Island old oyster stash, with smaller oyster stakes and broken timber loaded into the IRBs.

Older trays were broken up by the students to allow for transport back to the Woy Woy ramp.

Six full loads were taken back with Ellis' barge taking the larger bulk trays.

Approximately 100 older stakes still remain to be collected at a later date.

It was decided that the show would be presented outside of school hours due to the large number of performances and the school's inability to present the show in full at the school's presentation days.

Entry will be by gold coin donation with the proceeds split between Stewart House and the Comedy Club.

The duration of the show will be approximately 30 minutes with seating on a first-come first-served basis.

Sex education program

Woy Woy South Public School held an Interrelate Sex Education Program on Wednesday, October 23, for Year 5 and 6 students.

This program previously ran two years ago with positive feedback from participating children and parents.

Woy Woy South Public School principal Mr Terry Greedy said if interest remained strong, the plan was to run the program on a biannual basis.

All students were required to be accompanied by an adult for the sessions.

Appeal for member involvement

The Ettalong Beach Arts and Crafts Centre committee has made an appeal to its members for greater involvement in running the centre.

Committee numbers have decreased due to illness and leave.

"This makes for a heavy workload," said committee secretary Ms Jenny Knibb.

"We are all volunteers and many hands make work light.

"For a long time now, the committee has been looking towards its members for support.

"All too often we have had no response.

"This is your arts and crafts centre as much as it is ours and we value your input.

"We would be grateful of help and support from members to attend monthly meetings which are held on the second Monday of the month at 2pm at the centre.

"Your ideas and suggestions would be appreciated.

"We would be grateful; if members could help set up and participate more in our exhibitions as these showcase our centre to the community.

"We would very much appreciate more assistance in the selling of raffle tickets to help finance the centre.

"We are a not-for-profit organisation and the sale of raffle tickets is important financially.

"We get no financial support from Gosford Council or the government and depend mainly on grants and our own fundraising endeavours to survive."

Street stalls will run throughout October and November in Ettalong and Umina to sell tickets

"Put simply, the centre needs more help from its members to run efficiently.

"We warmly encourage you to join us in making this an even better arts and crafts centre and urge you to become part of the decision making process.

Little Theatre holds auditions

Auditions for Woy Woy Little Theatre's first production of 2014, the comedy Straight and Narrow, will be held on October 29 and 31 from 7:30pm.

Director Denise Main will conduct a general reading of the play on Tuesday, October 29, so potential cast members can get a feel for the story and understand the relationships of the main characters.

Auditions for the play will then be held on the night of Thursday, October 31.

There are four males and three females in the cast.

Straight and Narrow, a West End comedy hit, centres on partners Bob and Jeff and a personal crisis in Jeff's life.

Will Bob's family prove to be more of a hindrance than a help in resolving the delicate situation?

And will Bob be able to tell his seemingly intolerant mother that what she sees as the straight and narrow is not the life for her little boy?

Jimmie Chinn's writing style lies somewhere between that of Alan Bennett and Alan Ayckbourn.

For more information, please call Denise on 4342 2897.

Woytopia market cancelled

The Peninsula Waterfront Woytopia Market was cancelled on Sunday, October 13, after severe winds forced stallholders to pack up.

Patrons and passers-by helped stallholders pack up their stalls after the gusts made it too dangerous to remain trading.

A number of marquees were lost due to the damaging winds.

"The wind was such that past ruining marquees, it was potentially dangerous with things flying everywhere," said market organiser Mr Liam Grant.

The next market will be held on November 10.

Speaking against the best

Toastmasters' member Robert Stephen will represent the Eastern Division in the Semi Annual Conference at Ettalong on November 8, 9 and 10.

Mr Stephen will be up against some of the best speakers in NSW and the ACT but said he was confident that his time at Toastmasters would serve him well.

"It is not a question of winning or losing," said Mr Stephen.

"It is a question of stepping outside your normal comfort zone and simply having a go."

Toastmasters is a training and educational organisation which teaches its members communication, leadership, training and management skills, and builds their self-confidence and leadership skills through public speaking.

The Shame File

Ducks Crossing Publications has a very liberal credit policy for advertisers and realises that from time to time, people, businesses and organisations get into financial difficulty and may need assistance and time to get things back on track.

However, some people, businesses and organisations take advantage of this generosity they use advertising but simply don't pay their account after several months and need to be taken to court to do so.

From time to time, as necessary, we will name these people, businesses or organisations as a warning to our readers so that they will be wary when dealing with them.

Lifesavers compete in rowers' series

Three surf lifesaving clubs in the Peninsula area will compete in the Navy Australian Surf Rowers League Series to be held on Saturday, November 2, at Mollmook and Saturday, January 25, at Manly.

Crews from Killcare, Ocean Beach and Umina Surf Life Saving Clubs will battle it out for individual honours as well as the chance to represent NSW at the Navy ASRL Open.

The NSW arm consists of over 1500 rowers making up 250 crews from 70 surf clubs around the state across six divisions. At the end of the two rounds, all crews are invited to race for individual glory at the Navy ASRL Open in Stockton, NSW, from Friday, February 7, to Sunday, February 9.

The best performing NSW crews will compete against other state representative crews in the Navy Interstate Championship.

The official launch of the Navy ASRL Series will be at Surfers Paradise on Saturday, November 9.

Kieren's throw brings huge response

Kieren Handley of the Woy Woy Judo Club competed at the two-day Sydney Inter Open Run at the Blacktown Leisure Centre on September 21 and 22.

Handley, who competed in the Junior Men's under-73kg division, dominated his opponents with 10-point throws.

Kieren is a new Brown Belt competitor after success in the Shoalhaven Open in March and two Kyu Grade (under Black Belt) competitions at Sydney Olympic Park.

Handley's bouts brought a huge response from the crowd, especially after his instigation of the technique called Hari Goshi (sweeping hip throw) on a Sho Dan (first Black Belt) from Victoria, catapulting him in a complete spin to win gold on the first day.

Day two brought different results when both Kieren and fellow club member and assistant coach, Daniel Simmons, joined together in the Men's under-73kg division.

Handley was carrying an injury behind his left knee and Daniel had recently returned to Australia after three months in the USA competing at the Miami Grand Slam.

Daniel also suffered a torn ligament during a training session which put him on the sidelines for three and a half weeks.

The two fought diligently although ended up placing out of the medal contention this time.

Daniel also flew to South Australia recently for the South Australian Inter Open where he placed second.

Umina United juniors receive $2000

Umina United Soccer Club has received a $2000 grant as the result of the Central Coast Mariners scoring a goal on Saturday, October 12.

As the selected junior team, Umina United Soccer Club automatically received $1000 and, for every goal the Mariners scored during the match, the club received an additional $1000 bonus.

The grant came from A-League sponsor Hyundai as part of its Goals for Grassroots program.

The Mariners took on last season grand finalists, the Western Sydney Wanderers at Blue Tongue Stadium and finished with a 1-1 draw.

The Umina club also received 20 tickets to attend the match, an on-field official cheque presentation and the filming of a professional one-minute video to help promote their club.

"Our club has amazing community spirit and Saturdays are a huge day for us at the grounds, with many families spending the entire day there," said Umina United president Mr Warren Todd.

"We plan on putting our grant towards a new barbecue area and shelter at the clubhouse."

"The players get enormous pleasure seeing the local football players at our matches passionately cheering us on," said Central Coast Mariners registrar Deretta Brown.

"The future, and the heart-and-soul of the game lies here with the kids, and we are delighted to be able to play a part in encouraging and nurturing the community teams who will produce our future football stars."

Kai wins at national titles

Ocean Beach Malibu Club's Kai Ellice-Flint claimed first place in the under-18's junior logger event at the 2013 National Old Mal titles, continuing his winning form after the Australian Junior Longboard Title in August.

The event was hosted by the Crescent Head Malibu Club over the weekend of September 12 and 13.

Kai also placed second in the under-40's Greenough event.

Fellow club member Tom Payne is also making his mark on the national scene, placing third in both the under-18's junior old mal and junior logger divisions.

Tom then teamed up with Hayden Emery to contest the Southside Spring Classic at Cronulla on Saturday, September 14, with both progressing to the finals of their contested events.

Tom said he was thrilled to win his first under-18's high performance contest, beating his cousin Jared Eason, who placed third at the Australian Titles, in the process.

Tom then backed up that performance with a fifth place in the open loggers.

It was also the open loggers division in which Hayden Emery scored his best result of the day, claiming second place while also placing fourth in the final of the open high performance.

Mixed pairs championship

Woy Woy Bowling Club held its Mixed Pairs Championship on Sunday, September 29.

"Excitement behind the glass was at fever pitch with two very popular teams locked at one shot variations over the whole game," said bowls secretary Mr John Hughes.

"Gail Payne and Michael McMahon went head to head with Jarrod Bates and Carol Bryant.

"At end 20, it was 14-all and Jarrod pulled off a skipper's consummate shot converting a one down situation to a win of 15-14."
