

Hazard reduction burn at Koolewong

Two hazard reduction burns were carried out in Brisbane Water National Park near Koolewong on Thursday, October 2, and Friday, October 3.

National Parks and Wildlife Service regional manager Mr Geoff Luscombe said the low intensity burns were undertaken to reduce fuel loads in the area.

The two burns totalled 75 hectares and took place west of Koolewong Fire Trail and north of Parks Bay residential area.

Smoke from the burns may have impacted residents in Koolewong, Woy Woy, Woy Woy Bay, Phegans Bay and Horsfield Bay as well as Brisbane Water Dr and Glenrock Pde.

During the burn the area, including Koolewong Fire Trail, was closed to visitors.

With the assistance of the Enhanced Bushfire Management Program, National Parks and Wildlife Service plans to burn an average of over 135,000 hectares per year, through more than 800 individual hazard reduction activities.

Councillors kept in dark on restructure, says Scott

Gosford councillors have been kept in the dark about the council's management restructure and future restructure plans, according to Cr Vicki Scott.

Cr Scott said that the council had approved the restructure earlier this year with minimal supportive information.

She said the council's executive leadership team and senior managers were now "working through the requirements for the next stage of the restructure but, at this stage, councillors have had little information".

She said council had seen changes that included a change in the number of directorates from five to three with a number of responsibilities falling under the office of the general manager, the abolition of all executive leadership team positions which were re-established with different roles, and the departure of three directors.

One was retained as a project officer, two new directors were engaged and all senior management positions were abolished and were advertised as new positions.

Existing senior managers were offered to apply for advertised positions, redeploy or take a package; all but two senior managers left and the advertised positions were filled by new staff, she said.

On the motion of Cr Scott, the council resolved to require general manager Mr Paul Anderson to provide council with a report by the end of the year on the restructure.

Mr Anderson will be required to report on the budget for the restructure, the change in staff numbers, changes in programs and services, outsourcing, the number of redundancies, positions dissolved in the structure to date and proposed for the future, the departments to be abolished or joined with others, the final structure and time frame, the effect on staff and the public and the physical changes within council buildings.

Council has also required that a monthly report be presented on the progress of the restructure following the presentation of the initial report.

Average rainfall for September

The Peninsula recorded average rainfall for September, according to figures provided by Mr Jim Morrison of Woy Woy.

A total of 72mm was recorded for the month, compared to the monthly average of 70mm.

Despite a wet start to the month, only 1.2mm was recorded in the second half of the month.

Total rainfall for the year to the end of September was 831mm, which was 18 per cent below the average cumulative total of 1009mm.

Temperatures for the month ranged between a minimum of 8.5 degrees on September to a maximum of 32.3 on September 30, according to local weather website www.peninsulaweather.info.

Council justifies nature strip parking crackdown

Gosford Council staff have claimed that “community feedback” and as well as safety are the reasons for its crackdown on parking on nature strips.

Gosford Council's development and compliance manager Mr Bruce Macnee said that council had seen an increase in parking on nature strips on the Peninsula.

He said that cars parked illegally on nature strips posed a danger to pedestrians, cyclists and other drivers.

“We realise that residents sometimes park their vehicle on nature strips because they think this space is safer or more convenient.

“However, parking fully or partially on a nature strip or footpath, despite what the intention might be, is illegal under Australian road rules.

“Parking illegally on nature strips is a problem for pedestrians who may put themselves in harm's way as they try to navigate a safe path across these public areas.

“Illegally parked cars can also obstruct the view of other drivers,” Mr Macnee said.

Mr Macnee said a nature strip was the area of publicly-owned land between the front boundary of a property or other building and the street, which is typically planted with grass.

However, Mr Macnee did not provide details of where a nature strip started in cases where there was no kerb and guttering.

For residents who wanted to know, “more information can be found in the Road Rules 2008 (NSW)”, he said.

He said the penalties for parking illegally on a nature strip start at $104.

Council has undertaken a number of measures to help educate people including letterbox drops and the use of social media, Mr Macnee said.

“We would prefer to use education to change people's behaviour, and hope that motorists will co-operate and park in accordance with the road rules at all times.”

Street fair celebrates Umina's 100 years

A street fair to celebrate the centenary of Umina Beach will be held on Sunday, October 12, in West St from 9am to 2pm.

Peninsula Chamber of Commerce president Mr Matthews Wales said: "We are very pleased to be able to organise the Umina Beach Centenary Celebrations with a street fair."

"This is an important event that celebrates 100 years of history dating back to the first land subdivision registered in 1914," said Mr Wales.

"The celebrations on Sunday, October 12, will include the part closure of West St between South St and Oscar St where we will have street stalls, entertainment and a number of wonderful static historic displays including the vintage fire truck.

"This event will be officially opened by the mayor of Gosford at a cocktail function on Thursday, October 9, in the Ocean Beach Hotel function room where local historian Julie Aitchison will showcase her historic photographic exhibition and the local history of Umina Beach through the years.

"We are also very pleased to have special guest historian celebrity entertainer Jim Haynes who will entertain our guests throughout the evening," said Mr Wales.

Jim Haynes travels the country entertaining his audience with tales and information of Australian history and can be heard every Saturday morning on the radio 2UE George and Paul Show.

The exhibition will be open to the public from Friday, October 10, to Thursday, October 16, with free entry.

Julie Aitchison will be available from 12pm to 2pm each day to answer questions about her four year historic research.

"The Ocean Beach Hotel is under new management and is rebranding itself for families and good country style dining and a great opportunity to combine lunch or dinner as well as viewing the historic exhibition," said Mr Wales.

"Umina Beach is a vibrant town centre which has grown over the years from a local service centre to a thriving retail hub with a residential catchment of 38,000 residents.

"It is important that we celebrate this event and remember how our town grew and all of the wonderful memories that many of us have which has been captured in the photographic display.

Member for Robertson Ms Lucy Wicks spoke in Parliament on Wednesday, October 1, about the upcoming celebration.

"Umina Beach is one of the most picturesque locations on the Central Coast and is a veritable hub of activity with a wonderful mix of residents who've known and loved the area for decades, and of young people who thrive on the lifestyle and the community the Peninsula offers," said Ms Wicks.

"This Government knows how important it is to recognise events like this."

Bookings are essential to the official opening and can be booked through the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce by phoning Debra on 0415 361 343.

Armed robbery coincides with Patonga Hotel sale

An armed robbery has taken place at Patonga Hotel soon after the announcement of its sale to a local property developer.

The Osborne family has sold the Patonga Beach Hotel and adjoining fish shop to a local property developer for close to $8 million, according to the Central Coast Business Review.

The property had been on the market for five months for $10 million.

Mr Robert Osborne had owned and operated the property for 30 years.

Located on a 1546sqm site opposite the Patonga Beach ferry wharf, the fish shop is popular with day trippers and visitors.

The sale was negotiated through agents Jones Lang LaSalle Hotel and Hospitality Group.

Neighbour Ms June Coates said: "I live directly behind the fish shop and I have met the new owner and his brother.

"They are very personable.

"The hotel owner and his wife will be living here.

"I am expecting great changes and I expect they will be for the best."

The robbery took place on Sunday evening, September 28.

Two men forced entry through the locked front doors of the hotel at about 10:15pm.

One of the men was armed with a firearm and threatened the manager demanding cash.

The manager complied and handed over cash.

The two men left in a stolen silver Holden Astra, which was found abandoned in a car park near Umina a short time later.

No one was injured during the robbery.

Police would like to speak to anyone who may have witnessed or has any information about the incident, in particular two men who may be able to assist with their inquiries.

One was described as caucasian in appearance, 183cm tall, slim build, wearing a black hooded jumper, dark long pants and navy shoes.

The other man was described as about 190cm tall, wearing a black hooded jumper, black long pants, and black shoes.

Politicians warn of storm season

Minister for the Central Coast Mr Rob Stokes and Member for Gosford Mr Chris Holstein are advised Peninsula residents to prepare their homes and families for "storm season".

Mr Stokes said people could limit the amount of damage caused in a storm by making a few simple preparations now.

"You can get started by completing the online Home Emergency Plan," Mr Stokes said.

"Doing a little really can save a lot.

"Clear your gutters, trim overhanging branches and check that your home and contents insurance is up to date.

"These are all simple steps people can take to prepare for the storm season."

Mr Holstein said everyone could prevent damage by preparing their household and property now, at the beginning of the storm season.

"Communities should be proactive," said Mr Holstein.

"NSW SES volunteers do an outstanding job when storms happen but communities must do their bit to ensure everyone stays safe during storm season.

"Storms often happen suddenly and with little warning, so don't be complacent," said Mr Holstein.

NSW SES Acting Commissioner Jim Smith advised that volunteers spent over 90,000 hours responding to more than 12,000 call-outs last season across the state.

"Most of the damage we saw was from trees crashing down on to properties and vehicles as well as leaking and damaged roofs."

Ocean Beach Hotel

Hotel propose $1.1 million upgrade

A $1.1 million reconfiguration is proposed for Ocean Beach Hotel which would see upgraded facilities including the gaming area, beer garden, bistro and bar.

The development application proposes the reconfiguration of the existing gaming room and store area to provide more outdoor and semi outdoor spaces, reconfiguration of the existing bar area to form a single open area containing a new TAB bar and extended sports bar, reconfiguration of the existing lounge bar and bistro and an upgrade of the beer garden.

The driveway would also be upgraded to provide a loading dock and new cool room for the BWS liquor store.

According to the Statement of Environmental Effects produced by Planik, the hotel's accommodation was recently renovated with the management's focus now on other internal modifications to improve functionality of spaces and customer experience throughout the hotel.

Man charged after bank robbery

A man has been charged following the alleged armed robbery of a bank in Umina on the morning of Thursday, September 25.

A 33-year-old man entered a bank on West St at about 9:30am and approached a bank teller.

Police have been told he threatened the teller with a hammer, demanding money.

A nearby male customer attempted to intervene, before a struggle ensued between the pair and the armed man allegedly struck the customer a number of times with the hammer.

He ran from the scene with cash, before a police officer walking nearby attempted to stop and arrest him.

A nearby witness assisted the officer in detaining the man, and he was arrested at the scene before being taken to Gosford Police Station by officers attached to Brisbane Water Local Area Command.

The bank customer was taken to Gosford District Hospital to be treated for soft tissue damage to his arm.

He has since been released.

The 33-year-old man was charged with armed robbery, assault occasioning actual bodily harm and use weapon to avoid apprehension.

He was refused bail and appeared at Gosford Local Court the following day.

Sustainable living festival to be held in school grounds

The Peninsula's sustainable living and community arts festival, Woytopia, will be held in the grounds of Woy Woy South Public School from 9:30am to 3pm on Sunday, October 19.

The one-day event will have entertainment and activities for all ages with music and dance, green workshops and talks, food, children's entertainment, art installations and an eco-market of green products on offer.

Woytopia began in 2010 and grew out of talks and events facilitated by the Peninsula Environment Group.

"We had been organising individual talks and film nights on specific topics, then we thought we would build on that and, for two years (2008 and 2009), organised a small Sustainable Living Day at the Woy Woy Environment Centre," said Woytopia event manager Mr Mark Mann.

"But that is a small venue only capable of holding a small number of people, and we wanted to reach more people with a bigger event, hence Woytopia.

"We held Woytopia Festivals in 2010, 2011 and 2012.

"We then decided to make it a two-yearly event, because it takes a lot of organising, so there was no Woytopia in 2013, instead, we did a smaller mini-Woytopia in conjunction with the Peninsula Waterfront Markets.

"The core aim of Woytopia is to celebrate sustainable living and help build a community of people in and around the Woy Woy Peninsula who are interested in sustainable living, creativity, and generally more progressive ideas.

"We want to connect people who want to be more sustainable with others who share that vision, so they feel supported and not isolated.

"We want to bring together local green organisations and campaigns, and local people with similar ideals.

Woytopia focuses on positives and solutions - how to reduce energy bills, grow your own vegies, avoid toxic chemicals, delicious organic food, renewable energy, recycling, hemp clothing etc.

"We hear a lot about doom and gloom.

"We want to show that sustainable living can be positive, enjoyable and an exciting opportunity to make things better.

"That's why we called it Woytopia - because it is about celebrating what a great place the Woy Woy area is and also imagining how it could be even better.

"This year one of the centrepieces of the festival will be the Garden of Woydeas, supported by Gosford Council, where visitors to the festival are invited to create a flower with a positive message about the Peninsula, either celebrating what we have or ideas for the future.

"These flowers will be displayed around the festival site to create an interactive conversation about the Peninsula," said Mr Mann.

Headlining the main stage at Woytopia this year is one of the top names in Australian hip-hop, Ozi Batla, MC for the renowned hip-hop collective The Herd, performing with Bass Elephant.

Radical Son, also to perform, blends hip-hop, reggae and soul with his indigenous and Pacific Islander heritage, while singer-songwriter Paul Robert Burton is a multi-instrumentalist who's played with many of the greats of Australian music, from Jimmy Barnes to Paul Kelly.

The festival will start with a smoke ceremony by local Aboriginal elder Gavi Duncan.

For more information on the program for the day, see pages 16 and 17.

Aunty Di with her award nomination

Aunty Di is award finalist

Dianne O'Brien from Umina has been selected as one of three finalists in the NSW-ACT Regional Achievement and Community Awards.

The annual awards program recognises groups, business, individuals and communities who play a vital role in enhancing the social, environmental and economic prosperity of regional and rural NSW and the ACT.

The Award was developed to recognise individuals that often make a difference by giving their guidance, encouragement and much needed support within their communities.

Whether it's mentoring the unemployed, running camps for underprivileged teenagers or spending their time offering friendship, hope and inspiration to the disadvantaged and those who need it most.

With a passion for her community, Dianne, or Aunty Di as she is known, has spent her working life to assist in furthering the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal people, something she continues to do as Aboriginal health manager at Medicare, working with the chronic illness team.

As a volunteer chairperson for the Mingaletta community, Aunty Di has been instrumental in creating housing opportunities for members and assisted in the building of the Mingaletta Headquarters which has aided the establishment of a variety of community programs and health initiatives within the area.

Aunty Di acts as a spokeswoman for the community and regularly attends community forums and presents at public speaking engagements to support the existence of Mingaletta and the important and often crucial services they provide to the community.

The winner of the Regional Service Award will be announced at a gala dinner on Saturday, November 1, at the Wagga Wagga RSL.

The winner will be awarded $5000 and a trophy.

Dune vegetation to be improved in restoration project

Sand dunes on Umina Beach will be restored following the approval of a State Government grant.

Member for Gosford Mr Chris Holstein said the dunes contained important remnants of beach vegetation in the Gosford Local Government Area and provided habitat for native flora and fauna.

"This project will help combat weeds, improve native habitat on the dunes and enhance the area for beach users," said Mr Holstein.

Environment Minister and Minister for the Central Coast Mr Rob Stokes said: "These dunes are an important asset to the local area, both for their environmental value and their aesthetic beauty."

"The restoration will improve dune vegetation and ensure the dunes themselves are able to play their part in the dynamic processes of the beaches.

"This is one of 51 successful projects in the latest round of NSW Environmental Trust Restoration and Rehabilitation grants used to tackle environmental issues.

"I encourage interested members of the community to visit the Environmental Trust webpage on www.environmentaltrust.nsw.gov.au and consider applying for a future grant," said Mr Stokes.

Gosford mayor Cr Lawrie McKinna said: "This major funding means that the council and its team of dedicated community volunteers can continue with their tireless efforts to restore these dunes at some of our most popular beaches."

Police investigate fatal crash

Police are investigating a fatal motorcycle crash in Woy Woy on Thursday, September 25.

They have reported that a 28-year-old man was riding a motorcycle along Brick Wharf Rd just before 7pm when he was seen to lose control and hit a parked car.

The man was thrown off the motorcycle and landed on the road.

Emergency services were called and ambulance paramedics attempted to revive the man, but he died at the scene.

No one else was injured during the incident.

Officers attached to Brisbane Water Local Area Command together with Crash Investigation Unit attended and established a crime scene.

Investigations into the crash continue and a report will be prepared for the information of the Coroner.

Gosford City's deputy mayor Cr Jim Macfadyen and mayor Cr Lawrie McKinna

McKinna re-elected for third term

Cr Lawrie McKinna has been elected as Gosford's mayor for the third consecutive term.

Following a tied vote (5-5) between Cr McKinna and Cr Chris Burke, Cr McKinna was re-elected after his name was drawn by lot.

Cr Jim Macfadyen was elected as deputy mayor, also following a tied vote.

The tie between Cr Macfadyen and Cr Jeff Strickson was resolved with Cr Macfadyen's name being drawn by lot.

Cr McKinna said he was very proud to have the opportunity to continue leading Gosford's community during an era of great momentum and prosperity.

"After two years of hard work, business and investor confidence in our city is now at an all-time high with a record $507 million worth of investment lodged so far this year for the CBD area alone.

"This comes on the back of many other key proposals like the performing arts centre, Kibbleplex and a reinvigorated Gosford waterfront that will deliver positive flow on effects for local jobs, tourism and other investment."

Cr Macfadyen said: "I'm extremely proud to be a part of this council's renewed focus on investment and development."

"With a new local environment plan endorsed and an area of Gosford's waterfront declared a State Significant Site, development opportunities in Gosford City have been given a significant boost."

Council bluff to extract money from us?

I totally agree with Catherine Willis (Peninsula News, September 22).

Residents, including myself, have received letters from Gosford Council concerning the very serious offence of parking on nature strips.

I live in Watkin Ave, Woy Woy. On last count, I saw 42 vehicles committing this heinous crime.

I ask Gosford Council this question: With no kerb and guttering, where does the nature strip begin and the road end, or vice versa?

Perhaps we should all park on the bitumen and create a road block, preventing all traffic access up and down the street.

At the same time, why should we mow grass beyond our own boundaries?

I guess we ought to notify council to maintain these strips when they become an eyesore.

At present, these nature strips have been maintained to blend into their own grass boundaries, by us, the residents.

Surely council must have more serious matters to attend to that this revenue raising exercise?

How many rangers do they gave to enforce this petty waste of council money?

Correct me if I'm wrong, but I have been told that no offence has been committed if there is no kerb and guttering.

Is this just a council bluff to extract money from us ratepayers?

Park hosts family reunion

The Ocean Beach Holiday Park at Umina Beach attracted four generations of the one family over a three-day period recently, all descendants of Win and Stewart Paine.

This was our ninth reunion held in memory of those two special people.

The barn in the Holiday Park provided the ideal setting for our Back to the Farm theme, decorated to reflect the earlier lives of the Paine children.

Forum

Cloe, Nicole and the Park staff assisted us with our needs in pulling the function together.

The staff at Umina Bowling Club served who knows how many meals on Friday night for our meet and greet session.

In between our planned functions, the surrounding area on the Peninsula kept the family entertained throughout the weekend with the beaches, parks, waterfront markets, cinema, shopping and cafes, just to name a few.

We also had great weather.

The reason I wish to reflect on the wonderful family weekend, is to thank the friendly community and to have the opportunity to show our little bit of paradise, to count our blessings that so many family members were keen enough to come together over a period of days to have fun and share stories in memory of those two special people, Win and Stewart Paine.

Problem for, not with, the ABC

The Annual Report of 2013 makes it very clear the ABC has continued to make high quality content available to all Australians.

It has delivered on the key strengths and core responsibilities of its Charter.

Digital platforms, mobile services and social media provide new opportunities for all of us.

Outstanding programs with children's content which is safe, fun and educational should be mentioned in particular.

When you look at the financial performance of the ABC the success story is equally mind blowing in spite of the fact that operational revenues from government resources have actually declined from 1985 to 2013, in real terms, by 22.5 per cent.

Still, the ABC has created several additional channels, modes of production and platforms; think of ABC News 24 and the popular iView facilities.

The independent research about this public broadcaster and its multicultural sister organisation, the SBS, is very positive indeed.

Clearly, there is no problem with the ABC and the SBS.

To the contrary, there is a problem for the ABC.

It's Tony Abbott and his team of political tragics, and his support group of ideological fanatics, and Rupert Murdoch's News Corporation who is using Abbott to further their own global financial interests.

To give you one glaring example: 46 countries across Asia, the Pacific and the Indian sub-continent were connected to the Australia Network; that TV contract over 10 years of $223 million has been ended after two years.

This is an insane move. Several highly regarded, experienced journalists have been sacked and the soft diplomacy has gone, an important connection with the region has ended.

Research to examine the claimed green and left wing bias in ABC has shown such claims to be baseless, again.

Presumably to counter this imagined bias, two blatantly political appointments have been made to the selection panel to appoint new directors: Janet Albrechtsen and Neal Brown, both favouring the privatisation of the ABC, both very anti-ABC.

These appointments will result in anti-ABC board appointments.

Abbott's promise of "no cuts to the ABC" has certainly already been broken.

A one per cent cut in the May budget is a "down payment" on what more is to come.

The secret efficiency audit is headed by a Peter Lewis, a former Seven West Media financial officer who has no experience in public broadcasting.

We heard about leaks from the first draft of the Lewis Report, as follows: Proposals to charge fees for iView programs; dump digital radio channels; sell ABC studios, cut and centralise in Sydney what is left of internal TV production; merge some ABC and SBS operations; and increase advertising on SBS.

The threats to the ABC and SBS come from those who are ideologically driven by a love of free markets, in particular the Institute of Public Affairs (IPA).

The radical right in Australia has a champion in Abbott and several of his tragic Ministers.

They seem to have become imbued with economic rationalist theories while completing their tertiary studies during the free tertiary education period introduced by the Whitlam Government.

Quite frankly the IPA should be renamed the Institute of Private Affairs and, considering the ridiculous budget hysteria, economic rationalism should be recast as economic irrationalism.

It is hard to think of more effective and successful publicly owned organisations than the ABC and the SBS.

The coexistence of commercial broadcasters and excellent public broadcasters has been successful for many years.

The issue is not either public or private sector.

The issue is what works. What we have in Australia works well.

Mr Abbott leave them well alone.

Council traffic assessment was flawed

We won't drive far

The Peninsula Chamber of Commerce has subjectively opposed the proposal to install traffic lights at the Wellington St-Ocean Beach Rd intersection.

With the reconfiguration of Ocean Beach Rd to improve safety and traffic flow, why does the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce support northbound traffic being able to return along Ocean Beach Rd to access McDonalds?

Strange, or is it?

There is another option for the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Make McDonalds more sustainable by landscaping over the car park so that customers access the site by public transport, walking or cycling as advised in the rezoning application to councillors back in August 2011.

The Ocean Beach Rd Traffic Management Study from 2005 comments "from the analysis, it is predicted that two additional intersections could be reaching capacity in the future".

"These are the intersections of Veron Rd and Ocean Beach Rd and Wellington St and Ocean Beach Rd.

"Delays are experienced in accessing Ocean Beach Rd at both intersections."

This was before Aldi, Woolworths, Bunnings, and McDonalds.

Rezoning for McDonalds with staff recommendation included: "Traffic impacts will need to be assessed when a development application is considered by council."

Obviously the council's assessment was flawed.

Are the developments supported by the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce the reason for another change to Ocean Beach Rd?

How will council satisfy motorists and the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce?

The progression of traffic lights began at Woy Woy.

Who will dismiss Wellington St and West St in the progression?

Paul Anderson, CEO of Gosford City Corporation, would say this decision confirms growth.

What year is road network saturation predicted?

Experiencing expensive petrol prices on the Central Coast may become a daily assurance under the Liberal Government's plan to reintroduce the indexation of petrol, ultimately putting a new tax on fuel consumption.

This policy will hurt regional areas like the Central Coast the hardest due to our large commuter workforce that travel to Sydney and Newcastle via the highways for employment.

Where those in the city have an abundant selection of alternative transportation choices, people in more regional areas are restricted to vehicle use, therefore paying more under the scheme.

Rail risk will continue until crossing is closed

The Peninsula News recently (August 25) highlighted the risk to pedestrians failing to follow safety signals at the Rawson Rd railway crossing.

I would suggest the situation is only going to get worse until the crossing is closed completely and fenced off to vehicles and pedestrians.

A new and expensive pedestrian underpass at this crossing is nearing completion which will one day remove the risk to pedestrians but it is about three years early.

Until the major traffic works planned for the foot of Bulls Hill are undertaken the existing crossing must remain open to vehicles and pedestrians.

In the meantime the new underpass may very well lie unused.

Unfortunately these important road works have not even begun and optimistically will not be completed for at least three years.

Until this happens some people (and vehicles) will continue to cross the railway line at Rawson Rd against the signals with little heed of the risks involved.

The Blogg family with members of the Lions Club of Woy Woy Peninsula

Lions Club puts in new floor for disabled child

Woy Woy Peninsula Lions Club has assisted a local family by replacing the flooring of their home so their disabled child can move around the home more easily.

Annaliese Blogg, 10, has cerebral palsy and a severe development delay.

She was never expected to develop the ability to walk but, with a lot of effort, she is able to move around with her walking frame.

The Blogg family home had a mixture of tiles and carpet which made it difficult for Annaliese to walk.

Annaliese's mum Julie said with the help of the Lions Club and a donation from a flooring supplier, their house now has an even floor surface to help Annaliese with walking.

The total cost of the project was $7800 and involved the laying of timber flooring.

"Our Lions Club takes great pride in assisting those in need in the local area and is always mindful of the disabled and disadvantaged and endeavours to assist wherever possible," said Lions Club treasurer Mr Kevin Young.

Hat and tequila day for cancer research

Ettalong resident Ms Pamela Kirby has held a Hat and Tequila day at Ettalong Memorial Bowling Club to raise $3500 for the Cancer Research Foundation.

The event included a '60s duo band, raffles, a fashion parade, candle demonstrations and an auction of new labelled clothing and jewellery and attracted a total of 112 women.

"It was good fun," said Ms Kirby. Ms Kirby has overcome three different types of cancers.

She was most recently diagnosed with a brain tumour in May and has begun treatment for reoccurring spots on her lung.

"I'm still battling my battle," said Ms Kirby.

"You have to keep focused, keep positive, that's all you can do," she said.

"I thought it was time I gave back, I've had wonderful care.

Ms Kirby said people on the Peninsula were very generous.

"A lot of people couldn't come but still donated.

"The follow-ups have been brilliant."

Ms Kirby said she hoped to hold another fundraiser in the near future.

Workshops for female cancer patients

Workshops for female cancer patients will start at the Peninsula Community Centre on Tuesday, October 14, from 10am to 12:30pm.

The workshops aim to provide useful information and tips specifically tailored to help with the appearance related side effects of cancer treatment in a friendly, relaxed environment designed to boost self-esteem and confidence while undergoing treatment.

The two and a half hour workshops will teach guests how to care for their skin and apply make-up to help minimise the appearance related side-effects of treatment, as well as provide practical and creative ways to help deal with impending hair loss – with the opportunity to try wigs, headscarves and turbans.

Experienced volunteers from the cosmetic and beauty industry will guide the workshop sessions and all guests will receive a complimentary Confidence Kit, full of skincare and make-up products donated by the Australian cosmetic industry to take home after the workshop.

The Look Good...Feel Better programs are open to all women who are undergoing chemotherapy,

Get Moving

Have you ever studied athletes, regular walkers, tennis players, ball game players generally - really studied them?

Not only while they are performing their sport, but during interviews or conversation afterward?

If you have, you will have noticed a marked difference between their general demeanor and someone who rarely raises a toe to become active. The 'exercisers' have a decidedly brighter, faster and more responsive general attitude.

One particular trait you will notice is their more rapid speech than average - they think and move faster than those who don't exercise.

So, why is this?

If you exercise regularly, you are likely to be more intelligent, think faster and more efficiently than someone who does little exercise.

Recent studies have shown that people who participate regularly in any physical sporting activity have greater brain power than those who don't.

More intensive exercise such as competition-level swimming, tennis or jogging helps to develop older nerve cells and to form dense, interconnected webs, which results in faster and more efficient thinking.

Researchers have also found that every time a muscle is put in motion, it transmits a protein called IGF-1. This is the fuel to all activities in the brain that lead to higher thought.

The more you exercise, not only do you become physically fitter, you also become smarter!

Anyone who runs, walks, swims or plays a sport on a regular basis will tell you that they feel much better overall than they did prior to taking up their favourite activity.

This can sometimes be a little difficult for a couch potato to take in immediately.

It takes an effort for some to get off their chuff and try moving their arms and legs in anything other than a shuffle to the 'fridge and back to the armchair.

Those who exercise regularly, in one form or another, tend to live longer, secure better-paid jobs and make more friends.

It has been shown that only ten minutes of exercise can boost thinking speeds by thirty five milliseconds. This means that your thinking is faster and more discerning in emergency situations.

That's why fire-fighters, paramedics and police personnel all have a regimen of exercise built into their initial and ongoing training.

Exercise releases endorphins in the body.

These endorphins improve immune system function and lower blood pressure.

They also have an anti-aging effect, attacking superoxides, molecules that threaten living tissue and are responsible for illness and ageing.

Surely this alone is reason enough to get up and out into the fresh air with arms and legs flapping as often as possible.

Adjust your spine, adjust your life!

Parking changed for special needs students

Gosford Council will re-arrange parking zones in Bowden Rd and in Park Rd, Woy Woy, to better serve special needs students at Woy Woy Public School.

The council was told that the special needs support unit at the school had experienced a growth in enrolments which led to an increased number of special needs buses picking up and dropping off children at the school.

There was no bus zone for these buses, and they had to compete for the use of a 30-metre "accessible parking" zone in Bowden Rd with parents of special needs children.

At the time the accessible parking zone was established, an existing accessible parking space in Park Rd was removed on advice from the school.

While the school had a special needs parking area within the school, the mini buses could not access it because of the angle of the driveway in Bowden Rd.

The council decided to provide a 20 metre bus zone from 8am to 9:30am and 2pm to 3:30pm on school days on the northern side of Bowden Rd.

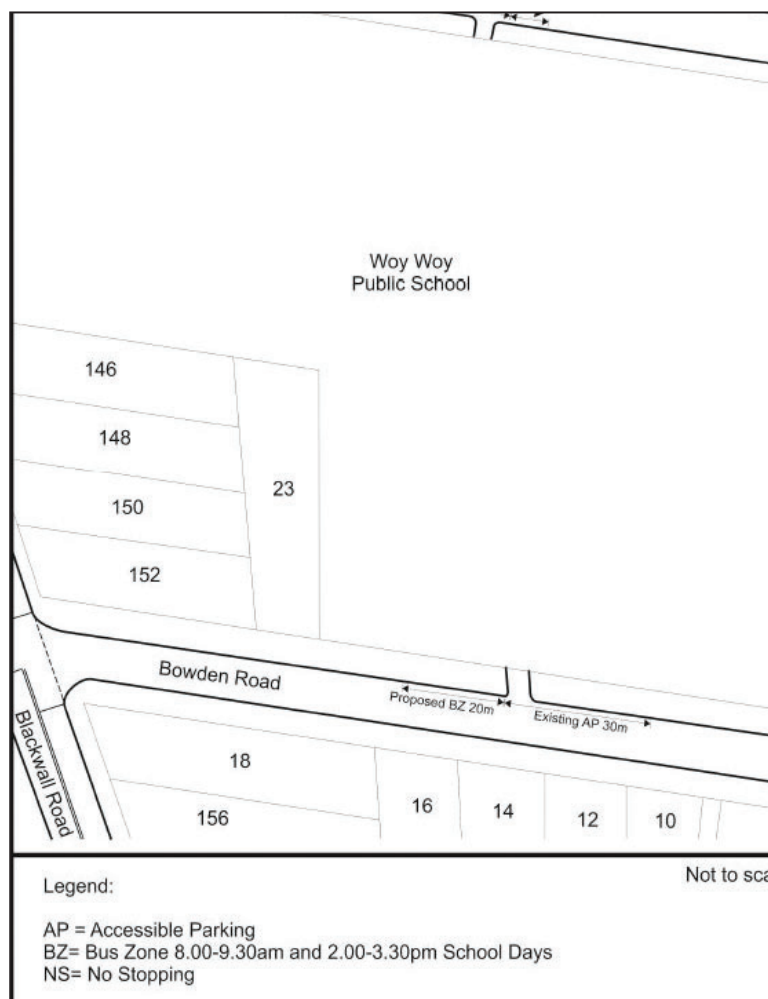

A seven metre accessible parking space will also be provided on the southern side of Park Rd.

The council's engineering investigations unit would also work with the school to find an equitable solution to improve the driveway so that mini buses could access the special needs parking area.

The decisions were made on advice from the council's Local Traffic Committee after the special education teacher at the school requested a change to the accessible parking zone and that the accessible parking space in Park Rd be re-installed.

The open age boys' team defeated Hills Sports High 6-5 in the final played at McEvoy Oval, Umina, on Wednesday, August 20.

For the core of the team, it was their final chance to win the coveted title as they are currently completing their final year of study at the College.

Their confidence grew throughout the two-day carnival defeating schools from Warilla, Wagga Wagga, Inverell and Tweed River.

However, it wasn't until their hard fought semi-final victory over Central Coast rivals Tuggerah Lakes Secondary College that they fully realised the possibilities.

Both schools made statements with their first chance to attack by scoring well-executed touchdowns.

The 30-minute game then settled into an arm wrestle with the score never exceeding a one-point difference.

On the back of some committed defence, excellent team work and highly-skilled performances Brisbane Water gouged out a three-point lead with 10 minutes remaining of regular time.

Hills Sports High lifted their intensity for one final push, buoyed on by the support of their girls' team who had just won the girls State Trophy.

With two minutes to go, Brisbane Water were ahead by one point.

"In the game of touch that's enough time to win and lose a game twice," said teacher Mr Matthew Marker.

This time, however, neither happened.

Brisbane Water drew upon every bit of energy and effort left to give and defended their try line as if life depended on it to win by a single touchdown.

The players who participated in the finals were captain Nicholas Hynes, Player of the Match Guy Pearson, Tom Hall, Bruce Waia, Garrison Steele, Wade Hannell, Darnell Wisham, Jack Steed, Sean Cole, Mitchell Wilson and Jarrod Hull who was sidelined through illness.

Distinctions in science

Woy Woy South Public School students received commendable results in the International Science competition.

Two distinctions were awarded to Robin Slater in Year 4 and Jake Hooker in Year 6.

Credits were awarded to Riley

Steele and Heather Snape in Year 4 as well as Keira Murphy and Taine Te Puia in Year 5.

Merits were rewarded to Ebony Jackson, Zoe Caldwell and Tasmin Caldwell.

Principal attends planning meeting

Umina Public School principal Ms Lyn Davis attended a planning workshop at Brisbane Water Secondary College on Tuesday, September 2.

"The college principals invited me to attend so that our school is aware of the strategic directions the college will take over the next few years," said Ms Davis.

"As principals we are working together for the children of the Peninsula to ensure continuity and consistency across schools.

"Mrs Hunt has been leading the implementation of the new maths syllabus across the learning community with schools working together to plan staff and student learning.

"It is hoped that over time there will also be consistency in assessment of mathematical learning across the schools in line with the expectations of the secondary school," said Ms Davis.

Woytopia is the Woy Woy Peninsula's very own sustainable living and community arts festival. The one-day event is packed with great entertainment and activities for all ages. There will be music and dance, green workshops and talks, delicious food, children's entertainment, art installations, an 'eco-market' of green products from hemp clothing to natural cleaning, and more.

Ozi Batla, Radical Son to headline Woytopia

Headlining the main stage at Woytopia this year is one of the top names in Australian hip-hop Ozi Batla, MC for the renowned hip-hop collective The Herd, performing with Bass Elefant. Radical Son blends hip-hop, reggae and soul with his indigenous and Pacific Islander heritage, while singer-songwriter Paul Robert Burton is a multi-instrumentalist who's played with many of the greats of Australian music, from Jimmy Barnes to Paul Kelly. The festival will start with a smoke ceremony by local Aboriginal elder Gavi Duncan.

Woytopia for kids

The Woytopia festival includes lots of free activities and entertainment for kids. There will be a chance to burn up energy with soccer, circus skills, hula-hooping and Indian dancing, as well as headspinning Zorb Balls. Animal-loving kids will enjoy the Walkabout Wildlife Park's reptile show and the Brisbane Water School farm. Budding artists can make a musical instrument out of rubbish, or help create the Garden of Woydeas. Plus henna tattoos, crazy hairstyling, ukeleles, the Ladybug Express puppet show and more.

Green living

Woytopia features a full program of green living and gardening talks and eco-market stalls. Learn about composting, growing veggies, keeping chickens and bees, and native plants as bushtucker or in your garden. Find out about renewable energy in Australia and the Central Coast. Get tips on how to make your home more energy efficient and how to cut out harmful chemicals and connect with a range of local environment groups.

Peninsula Environment Group

Woytopia is organised by the Peninsula Environment Group (PEG). PEG's other projects include an organic food-buying cooperative, the Woy Woy Peninsula Community Garden in Moana St, and the Rolling bike project, which celebrates cycling on the Peninsula. PEG also organises stalls, talks, workshops, social events and other activities promoting sustainable living. PEG meets at the Woy Woy Environment Centre on the corner of Blackwall Rd and Billabong St. More information www.peg.org.au

Exhibition about Umina's history

will present an exhibition of Umina Beach from 1914 to 1964 as part of centenary celebrations.

The free exhibition will be held in the function room of the Ocean Beach Hotel and will be open daily from Friday, October 10, to Thursday, October 16.

On display will be many historic photos dating back from the early 1900s as well as land subdivision maps and a copy of the first free newspaper on the Peninsula, the Woy Woy and Ocean Beach

Chronicle, dated November 1, 1922.

"There will also be other newspaper articles and items of interest that will pique everyone's interest on how Umina Beach grew over the years to become the successful retail centre it is today," said Ms Aitchison.

"I will be attending the exhibition each day from 11am to 1pm to answer questions on my historical research and exhibits.

"I have been researching the history of Umina for the past four years which has given me great pleasure.

"I now have a large collection of photos, movie film of Umina Beach from the 1950s and interviews with people who were born in the 1930s and grew up in Umina, many of whom have spent their whole lives here.

"I am now seeking financial help from the public so I can turn this information into a video.

"I have posted a short video and information about the project on Pozible, a crowd funding site <http://pozible.com/oceanbeachuminahistory> and anyone who may be interested can follow the link and join in funding this important piece of history," said Ms Aitchison.

Mini craft workshops for children

Ettalong Beach Arts and Crafts Centre conducted mini drawing and pottery workshops for children at a West Gosford hardware store on Thursday, September 25.

The tutors set the scene with multi coloured crayons and pencils, brightly coloured papers and special air drying clay that allowed children to let their imagination take flights of fantasy.

The children ranged in age from three years to young teens and the Ettalong Beach Art and Craft Centre members said they were delighted to discover budding artists.

"Our talented artist Jim O'Mara drew the admiration of many customers as he created a wonderful still life in pastels while the workshops were under way," said Centre publicity officer Ms Sue Sullivan.

"Adding to the variety of community-spirited works were the women from our stitchery group that runs every Thursday during the afternoon.

"They have developed a project called Boobs and Bags that supports local hospitals by making comfort cushions and drainage bags that are given to patients who have had surgery for cancer.

"The demand for this support grows year by year and we invite members of the community to join our stitchery group to help keep this project moving forward.

"Donations of soft cotton fabrics and wadding for the cushions would be welcomed with open arms.

"There are several members who are skilled in other forms of stitchery such as patchwork, knitting, crochet and embroidery who attend, just to join like-minded people in doing what they love best; no tutors, just friends learning from each other," said Ms Sullivan.

Enquiries about all activities at the Ettalong Beach Arts and Crafts Centre can be made by calling 4341 8344.

Annual seafood bowls day

The annual Seafood Lawn Bowls Day was held at the Sporties at Woy Woy on Saturday, September 6.

Despite the inclement weather, 28 teams of three players turned up to contest the event, vying for a share in the $1000 in prize money. With play interrupted by torrential downfalls, the competition was finally completed and the winning team was Paul Thomas, Dave Bowman and Matt Lynch.

Oysters and prawns were then served.

Auditions held for Yes, Prime Minister

Open auditions for the first Woy Woy Little Theatre production of 2015 will be held on October 14 and 15 from 7:30pm at the Peninsula Theatre.

The play is Yes, Prime Minister, an updated version of the popular TV series.

The original writers of the hit television production, Anthony Jay and Jonathan Lynn, reunited to adapt the concept for the stage four years ago.

Spin, blackberries, sexed-up dossiers, sleaze, global warming and a country on the brink of financial meltdown form the backdrop to mayhem at Chequers as the Foreign Minister of Kumranistan makes a seriously compromising offer of salvation.

Prime Minister Jim Hacker remains in power with his coterie of close advisers including cabinet secretary Sir Humphrey Appleby and principal private secretary Bernard Woolley.

Woy Woy Little Theatre president Ms Christine Vale will be directing Yes, Prime Minister to be staged at the Peninsula Theatre for three weekends from February 27 to March 15.

The acting roles required to be filled comprise cabinet secretary Sir Humphrey Appleby, principal

Director Ms Christine Vale

private secretary to the Prime Minister Bernard Woolley, Prime Minister Jim Hacker, special policy adviser Claire Sutton, the Kumranistan Ambassador, director general of the BBC Jeremy Burnham and BBC presenter

Simon-Simone Chester.

Pergola and decking completed at Hardys Bay

Helena Brunner and David Martucci

The timber pergola and surrounding timber decking adjacent to the Hardys Bay Club has been completed with views to the natural waterfalls at the rear.

Hardys Bay Club director Ms John Brown said the area was a wonderful place to enjoy the warmer months and is available for functions.

"Over the next few weeks at the Club, many visitors and locals alike will be able to enjoy some great events," said Mr Brown.

The long weekend saw performances by classical guitarist David Martucci and Helena Brunner and a Bands of the Bay performance.

The Club will hold an Oktoberfest event on Saturday, October 11, from 12pm.

Bistro 14 will provide a German barbecue of bratwurst and sauerkraut and visitors can taste German beers served by fraulein dressed in dirndls.

Frecko and Frecko will provide live music throughout the day.

Men's night held at Hope Church

Umina's Hope Church Central Coast held a men's night on Friday, September 26, with the theme Courage Under Fire.

Sixty-three men came together and enjoyed a free barbecue and live acoustic music by some of the younger members of the Church's worship team.

The event was held in the church courtyard.

Church member Mr Jason Symons said: "The barbecue was followed by a lucky door prize hosted by our own Dean Millington where lots of prizes were given away.

"We then headed upstairs where the worship team performed three songs that the men really enjoyed," said Mr Symons.

Australian Christian Lobby deputy chairman Mr Jim Wallace was the guest speaker for the event and spoke about his time as the Commander of the SAS Regiment of the Australian Army and as managing director of the Australian Christian Lobby and how his faith in Jesus Christ impacted those roles.

He also spoke about his role in developing Australia's counter-terrorism policy and his thoughts on the current situation regarding Islamic State.

"Jim then spoke to us from his vast life-experience in the military and politics, from the perspective of a Christian man that has been in many challenging situations, on the topic of men having courage under fire and the need for men today, Christian and non-Christian, to show courage in their everyday life," said Mr Symons.

Patisserie cafe and bakery opens in Ettalong

A new patisserie cafe and artisan bakehouse opened in Ettalong on Tuesday, September 23.

Baketta owner Ms Kim Ritchie said the key requirements of ingredients used at Baketta were natural, local, sustainable and as seasonal as possible.

"Baketta aims to offer the Peninsula region Sydney-style baked goodness," said Ms Ritchie. She said Baketta was a "lifelong dream" of hers.

Ms Ritchie career-changed a few years ago from web and graphic design to her first love of baking and cooking.

She said it wasn't long before husband Jeff caught the baking bug and developed a love for sourdough and artisan bread baking, sharing in the labour of love and the dream to own a small but thriving bakehouse cafe.

Both Kim and Jeff trained in baking at Hamilton TAFE in Newcastle.

"There is nothing more rewarding than working with a few simple ingredients and producing honest pure bread.

"It is an art that the world almost lost in the age of instant bread and frozen imported product passing as baked fresh," said Jeff.

"Fortunately there are many bakers discovering and re-discovering this wonderful world of sourdough, and I am thrilled to be one of them," he said.

Celebration cakes, as well as every-day cakes, will be another specialty, with many flavours and styles to choose from, using no artificial flavours, chemicals or additives.

"Baketta aims to offer the entire community the chance for a wonderful dining experience by taking care of dietary special needs such as gluten free, dairy free and even sugar free being catered for," said Ms Ritchie.

Croissants and Danish pastries will be handmade and baked fresh on a daily basis.

"Cakes, patisseries and other sweet treats will be complimented by a menu of delicious healthy breakfasts and light lunches, as well as slightly more naughty gourmet pies, sausage rolls and savoury tarts, so both sweet and savoury tooth will find something to enjoy at Baketta," said Ms Ritchie.

Toastmasters attend world convention

Woy Woy locals Ms Jan Cummings and Ms Gail Heggie recently represented Australia at the World Championship of Public Speaking at the Toastmasters International convention in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Both Ms Cummings and Ms Heggie, who are members of Ettalong Toastmasters, hold the highest achievement in the Toastmasters International education program of Distinguished Toastmaster.

Ms Heggie said that all the speakers were inspiring.

"The way the presenters and speakers in contests use vocal variety and gestures is always a learning curve and suggests how we all could bring life into our own speeches," said Ms Heggie.

Ms Heggie also described the event as a listening marathon.

"We must have seen more than 36 speakers in keynotes, educational speeches and contests in four days."

Ms Cummings, who also attended the 2008 World Championship convention in Calgary, Canada, said that "all speeches were exceptional" and that the Australian champions Mr Peter Law from Western Australia and Mr David Griffiths from NSW performed really well.

"The regular practice has given me confidence, and the constructive appraisals by fellow Toastmasters are always encouraging," said Ms Heggie.

Ms Cummings said: "I've learned to tame my fear of presenting ideas to people and to lead meetings."

Toastmasters International is a non-profit educational organisation that helps members improve their communication and leadership skills by practicing in a supportive and friendly environment.

Toastmasters International consists of 14,650 clubs in 126 countries.

Eleven of these clubs are located on the Central Coast from Ettalong to Toukley.

Inspiration drawn from 5,000 years of Chinese culture
Exquisite costumes from ancient dynasties & peoples
Stunning, animated backdrops

A PRODUCTION NOTHING SHORT OF A MIRACLE.

SHEN YUN—it's a grand production. Every year we start fresh. Every detail matters. Our goal? Not just another show. We take our craft beyond the boundaries of performing arts as you know it.

A Shen Yun show is a fusion of classical arts with modern appeal. As one audience member put it, "It's like a fashion show, opera, concert, and dance performance all rolled into one." Difficult?

Yes. Impossible? No. Our passion motivates us to bring it all together into one extraordinary experience.

Classical Chinese dance lies at the heart of our performances. The dancers—with what some have called "limitless bodies"—turn an intensely difficult art form into something beautiful and effortless. China's 5,000 years of civilization provide an endless source of inspiration. The choreographers work closely with the composers to recreate ancient stories and legends, or convey an aspect of the culture, through short pieces that last no more than a few minutes. Our graphic artists, meanwhile, use advanced digital technology to produce stunning animated backdrops that correspond precisely to each dance.

After seeing the show, one audience member marveled, "This production... is nothing short of a miracle."

NOT MADE IN CHINA

Based in New York, Shen Yun Performing Arts was founded with the mission to restore 5,000 years of divinely inspired Chinese culture, which has been mostly destroyed in China under communist rule. In fact, a show like Shen Yun can no longer be found in China today.

"Incredible" -MSNBC

"Breathtaking" -CurtainUp

"Absolutely Beautiful"
- Robert Stromberg, production designer of Avatar

"Don't see it once, see it twice!"
-WVOX

"Demonstrating the highest realm in arts, Shen Yun inspires the performing arts world."

-- Chi Cao, lead actor in Mao's Last Dancer, and principal dancer with Birmingham Royal Ballet

Young surf stars hone their skills

Three young surf sport stars from Umina Beach Surf Life Saving Club were among the five Central Coast athletes to hone their skills at the NSW Talented Athletes Program on Sydney's Northern Beaches during the holidays.

Umina representatives attending the camp were Kirsten Miller, Jasmine Darwin and Mimosa Henderson.

The Talented Athlete Program exposes leading under-13 to 15 athletes to the beginning of the Surf Life Saving NSW High Performance pathway.

Athletes that have taken part in this program in the past, such as Kendrick Louis, Alyce Bennett, and Tany Lyndon, have gone on to win National and World Championships, represent Australia and qualify for the Kellogg's Nutri-Grain Ironman Series.

Mimosa Henderson said she had an amazing experience and learnt a lot of over the three day camp.

"I've had so much fun and made some great new friends from all over the state.

"We've learnt a lot of little things from the coaches that we didn't know before likes tips for starting and finishing a race, using our diet to our advantage and how to be mentally tough," she said.

Surf Life Saving NSW sports manager Mr Shane Knight said the program was important to ensure the future of Surf Sports in NSW.

"The Talented Athlete Program is one of the most successful and longest running programs Surf Life Saving NSW offers to its members."

The runners-up of the Central Coast qualifier of Bowls NSW Rookie Pairs John Muir and Tom Nailard from Avoca Beach Bowling Club with the winners Richard Magro and Brian Emms of diggers@theentrance Bowling Club

Rookie Pairs round attracts 34 teams

It was the first time this event was played in one day with teams playing three games of 12 ends in sectional play, with section winners then playing off in a semi-final and the winners progressing to the final.

Brian Emms and Richard Macro of diggers@theentrance scraped into the final with a one shot win in their semi-final over the Halekulani pair of Peter Baker and 13-year-old Joshua McDonnell.

In the other semi-final Tom Nailard and John Muir of Avoca Beach Bowling Club had a strong win over the Ourimbah-Lisarow pair of Craig Wilson and Garry Denniss.

The Diggers' pair of Brian

Emms and Richard Magro established an early break and ran out convincing winners 13-5.

They will now contest the State Final to be played at Raymond Terrace Bowling Club on November 2.

Ducks Crossing Publications has a very liberal credit policy for advertisers and realises that from time to time, people, businesses and organisations get into financial difficulty and may need assistance and time to get things back on track. However, some people, businesses and organisations take advantage of this generosity they use advertising but simply don't pay their account after several months and need to be taken to court to do so. From time to time, as necessary, we will name these people, businesses or organisations as a warning to our readers so that they will be wary when dealing with them.

Killcare Surf Life Saving Club open day

Surf clubs open their doors

Ocean Beach, Umina Beach and Killcare Surf Life Saving Clubs opened their doors to the public on Sunday, September 21, as part of a state wide Surf Club Open Day.

Umina Surf Lifesaving Club president Mr Robert McLeod said around 200 people attended the Umina open day with a number of new members joining.

"Our Rookies held a pancake and cupcake stall," said Mr McLeod.

"They also took people on tours of the surf club and we had members of the public visit out patrol to find out what we do on the beach," he said.

Ocean Beach Surf Lifesaving Club director of marketing Mr Nigel Fitzgibbon estimated that around 300 community members attended the Ocean Beach open day.

Activities on the day included a first aid and signals display and the public were also shown resuscitation techniques.

Mr Fitzgibbon said: "By putting on a demonstration you can explain the origins of things like signals you can use to communicate over hundreds of metres and this was before radio."

Unfortunately due to weather conditions, water activities weren't able to run, he said.

Mr Fitzgibbon said the day was successful.

"This year was bigger and, if it carries on, it'll get bigger and bigger."

"It was very successful, I was able to talk to people the entire time," he said.

Dragon boat club offers free trial

The Deepwater Dragon Boat Club will hold a Come and Try Day on Sunday, October 26, from 10am at Woy Woy First Sea Scouts on North Burge Rd.

Visitors will have the chance to learn the basics of dragon boating, meet the members and paddle a dragon boat.

"The Deepwater Dragon Boat Club offers something for everyone, men, women and juniors 12 plus," said club president Ms Kathy Cummings.

"Dragon boating is a great way to meet new people, have some fun while increasing your fitness with the opportunity to compete at regattas from Sydney to the Mid North Coast," said Ms Cummings.

Umina shares pool rescue win

Umina Surf Life Saving Club placed equal first in the annual Surf Life Saving Central Coast Pool Rescue Challenge held on Friday, September 26, at Mingara One.

Umina tied with Shelly Beach Surf Life Saving Club in the second consecutive year of winning the award.

The Pool Rescue Challenge gives local clubs the chance to test their lifesaving skills prior to the surfing season.

The event comprises events designed to test the lifesaving skills of the teams and includes rescue tube races, towing a patient, retrieval of life size dummies from the pool floor and return to shore, body board races and relay races.

The event was open to all 15 surf lifesaving clubs on the Central Coast.

Teenager returns from baseball world cup in Mexico

Umina baseball player Nic Anderson-Vine has returned from Mexico after representing Australia at the International Baseball Federation under-16s World Cup.

Contested every two years, this was the first time Australia had entered the event.

Going in ranked 14th, Australia finished ninth out of 18 teams.

The team failed to make it to the final series despite big wins over Lithuania, Hong Kong, Argentina and Italy.

A couple of close losses to Brazil and Germany proved costly.

Nic said the highlight for him was against the winning team from Cuba, coming onto the pitch to close the final three innings in front of a crowd of 5000, complete with fireworks and Mexican mariachi band.

Nic currently plays first grade for the Woy Woy Wolves in the Central Coast Baseball Winter competition and has been selected in the NSW Country squad to contest the National under-16s Championships in Sydney next January.

Woy Woy club helps organise judo championships

Woy Woy Judo Club has helped organise the Judo Central Coast Championships held at the Central Coast Adventist School Sports Stadium in Erina.

The event was held on Sunday, September 21, for the first time as an Open Event.

It was organised together with Erina, Chittaway Bay and Kido Mingara judo clubs.

A total of 24 judo clubs attended the event, travelling from Sydney and as far away as Coffs Harbour, Bathurst and Wollongong.

The championships provided an opportunity for 60 local judo players to compete against almost 150 other judoka aged from five years to adult men and women.

Even though the tournament was the first for many of the local juniors, the event was attended by some former international players to lend a hand with coaching juniors from the sidelines.

These internationals included 1988 Olympians Warren Rosser and Kerrye Katz and former Olympic coaches Rob Katz and Angela Deacon.

Angela, who is also a Commonwealth Games gold medallist, resides on the Central Coast.

Judo Central Coast organiser Shane Alvisio said that a total of 34 medals were won by local Judo players, nine of which were won by members of Woy Woy Judo Club.

These comprised Jarvis Orr who placed third in the 31kg Mon Mixed event, Archie Orr who placed first in the 35kg Mon Mixed event, Kyle Grace who placed third in the 40kg Senior Graded event, Sterling Young who placed first in the 60kg Senior Graded event, Mark Lill who placed first in the 73kg Cadet event, Kieran Handley who placed first in the 73kg Men event, Paul Sheean who placed second in the 73kg Men event, Sean Cole who placed third in the 100kg Men event and Drew Evans who placed second in the 73kg Masters event.

Woy Woy wins rugby union premiership

Woy Woy has defeated Ourimbah by 36 points to 12 in the 2014 Central Coast Rugby Union Premier One Grand Final played at Woy Woy Oval on Saturday, September 20.

In a fast game of rugby, the scores remained tight for much of the match but the last quarter of the game saw Woy Woy dominate on the paddock and on the scoreboard.

Woy Woy opened the scoring in the fourth minute when fullback Matt Riddle kicked a penalty goal.

Woy Woy maintained the rage and once again went close to crossing the line.

They were able to break through soon after when centre Junior Stowers made a good run and crossed for a well-deserved try.

Woy Woy had jumped to an early 8-0 lead, but Ourimbah were not to be outdone.

They quickly responded and had a series of attacks close to the try line.

They were forcing pressure onto the Woy Woy defence and it was the result of a charge down of a Woy Woy clearing kick that Ourimbah flanker Clint Guyatt was able to dive on the ball under the posts.

The conversion by winger Brenton Law had closed the gap to 10 points to seven.

At the midway point of the first half the game was evenly balanced, both on the playing field and on the scoreboard.

Jake Wildschut winning a lineout ball for Woy Woy

The deadlock was broken in the 21st minute when an intercept by Woy Woy winger Daniel Campbell saw him race 50 metres before passing inside to supporting player Sione Toki who crossed for a try.

The unconverted try took Woy Woy to a 15-7 lead which remained the score for the next 15 minutes.

The game tightened once again in the 36th minute when Ourimbah number eight Tyler Jones made an incisive run down the sideline to cross wide out.

This try made the score 15-12 which remained until the halftime break.

The second half started in much the same way as the first.

It was Woy Woy who was first on attack and went close to increasing their lead on a couple of occasions.

It was in the eighth minute that they finally crossed.

Five-eight Fokolulu Taumalolo made a run to increase the Woy

Woy lead and the conversion of this try by Matt Riddle saw Woy Woy sit at a 22-12 lead early in the second stanza.

In the 12th minute, centre Junior Stowers crossed for his second try and suddenly the doors were ajar and Woy Woy appeared to be in control of proceedings.

The score had jumped to 29-12 and things were getting desperate for Ourimbah.

At the midway point of the second half Ourimbah launched a series of raids and went close to scoring but simply were unable to break through.

Ourimbah had several good players in the match; flanker Bradd Sheridan never stopped trying and gave it his all.

He was well supported by prop Brett Cunningham, halfback Matt King, and five-eight Dave Laidlaw.

The match was secured in the 28th minute when centre Jovesa Kunawave crossed for his team's fifth try.

The conversion by Matt Riddle made the final score 36-12.

The kicking by Woy Woy fullback Matt Riddle was immaculate all day.

The match saw Woy Woy win their first top grade Premiership since 1988 after coming from fourth spot on the competition ladder.
