What the St Hubert's Island bridge could look like with the planned fence

St Huberts Island Bridge before the planned works

Wicks called to intervene in bridge dispute

A new community action group on St Huberts Island, the Bridge Warriors, is calling on Member for Robertson Ms Lucy Wicks to intervene in a dispute over an upgrade to the St Huberts Island bridge.

The group is asking Ms Wicks to intervene before a Federal grant is signed off to enable Central Coast Council to proceed with an upgrade it has planned for the bridge.

Bridge Warriors organiser Ms Lindy Wilson said the group did not want a $900,000 grant spent to install public nuisance barriers designed to prevent people jumping off the bridge into the water.

She said the project would be "a misuse of precious public money".

"The use of monitored CCTV, with clearer signage, fines for those who do the wrong thing and regular patrolling during summer months would be significantly cheaper, more effective and would not devastate the beautiful aesthetics of the bridge," she said.

Group member Mr Mike Wade said that the core safety issue with the bridge had been completely ignored.

"The bridge is very old and has a very narrow footpath and no separation or protection from the passing traffic.

"The lack of this protection coupled with the many trip hazards is just an accident waiting to happen."

Another group member Ms Carol Khouri said the proposed fence design "is incredibly ugly and not in any way in keeping with our beautiful suburbs of St Huberts Island and Daleys Point".

She said the council had only paid lip-service to community consultation, and had not responded to the community's wishes.

The St Huberts Island

Residents Association has also opposed the project and has continued to press for residents' views to be respected.

Association president Mr Ken Stewart said: "On April 17, when the association was advised by Council of its proposed galvanised weld-mesh safety barrier, we immediately realised what an over-powering addition this would be to our bridge.

"We advised all the Island residents by letterbox drop showing the proposed barriers.

"There was an overwhelming resident reaction with 223 responses, 160 seen by the association, sent to Council.

"The vast majority of replies from the respondents request the repainting and restoration of the existing bridge balustrade, and were appalled at the proposed weld-mesh barriers."

As Peninsula News went to press, Ms Wicks released a statement saying that she would meet with Central Coast Council in the coming week and "will continue to work with the residents around St Huberts Island to deliver a safer bridge for all".

Council to spend $7.5M from contribution plans

A total of $7.472 million will be taken from Peninsula "developer contribution plans" to fund projects on the Peninsula over the next four years.

Money for the plans are contributed by property developers as a condition of development approval, with the aim of funding public infrastructure required as a result of their developments.

The details of capital works program projects funded by contributions plans were tabled at the Central Coast Council meeting on September 14.

The report stated that the Minister of Planning and Public Spaces allowed the pooling of contributions across all of Council's contributions plans from May 18.

He required a four-year plan to be submitted to the Department of Planning Infrastructure and Environment.

Council staff submitted a plan with a total project expenditure of $93.59 million of which $79.62 million would come from developer contributions and $13.97 million from other sources.

Despite the provision for pooling, the plan allocated no pooled funds to the Peninsula.

The Peninsula has around 11.7 per cent of the Council's population, but was allocated 9.4 per cent of the allocated funds.

A total of $1.923 million was allocated for projects this financial year, with $550,000 going towards the Rogers Park redevelopment, $380,000 towards improvements at James Brown Oval and $315,000 altogether for playground upgrades at Australia Ave, Ryans

Rd and Brickwharf Rd.

Dune stabilisation has been allocated $200,000 and beach access a further $100,000.

"Sporting facility redevelopment" at Umina Oval has been allocated $160,000 this financial year towards a total project cost of $2.177 million.

Other projects to receive contribution plan funding include reserve upgrades for the Woy Woy Waterfront Redevelopment, and at Mt Ettalong and other reserves.

The plan earmarked $3.368 million for projects next financial year.

This included $916,000 for "reserve upgrades" at the Woy Woy Waterfront Redevelopment, $690,000 for "sporting facility redevelopment" at Umina Oval, and $300,000 at each of Rogers Park and for further "reserve upgrades" at Woy Woy Waterfront or at Lions Park.

Amounts of $200,000 or more were allocated to upgrades at McEvoy Oval and Mt Ettalong reserve and for dune stabilisation.

An amount of $100,000 was allocated for beach access and $80,000 for the Blackwall boat ramp.

An upgrade to Blackwall Mountain reserve was allocated $50,000, of a total project cost of $435,000, and $100,000 was allocated to other reserve upgrades.

In the financial year 2022-23, the plan allocated $1.48 million to Peninsula projects.

The largest amount was $570,000 for the Blackwall boat ramp upgrade.

The Umina oval sporting facility redevelopment was allocated $250,000, dune stabilisation $200,000, while upgrades to the reserves at Mt Ettalong and Blackwall Mountain were given $175,000 and $130,000 respectively.

Other projects including beach access, observation decks and interpretive signage received a total of $155,000.

In the fourth year, 2023-24, only $601,000 has been allocated from contribution plans to projects on the Peninsula.

The Blackwall Mountain reserve upgrade was allocated $255,000, dune stabilisation $183,000 and observation decks $100,000.

A total of $62,000 was allocated to beach access upgrades and to interpretive signage.

Editorial policy

The newspaper's editorial policy reflects a desire to reinforce the Peninsula's sense of community.

To qualify for publication, articles must have specific relevance to the Peninsula. For example, they must be about activities or events happening on the Peninsula or be organised by or involving Peninsula people.

The newspaper is not regional or national in nature, so regional or national issues will not be canvassed except as they affect the Peninsula.

Regional sports will only be covered from the perspective of Peninsula clubs. Regional plans will only be aired in the context of their ramifications for the Peninsula.

Peninsula News aims to be inclusive of as much of the Peninsula community as possible.

Readability

To ensure that the newspaper serves its purpose, it must be readable and represent the interests and activities of the community in its content.

Contributions to the paper are edited to consistent standards of readability. Guidelines are available for intending contributors.

All items will be dated. They must contain the name of the author to whom the contribution may be attributed, with their first name spelled out, along with their suburb or organisation. Anonymous contributions will not be accepted.

Forum letters

The Forum section provides the opportunity for readers to express their views on any aspect of Peninsula community life, with the aim of reflecting the community's diversity of opinion.

Nevertheless, letters may be edited for readability, including for length, spelling and grammar, and to avoid legal liability on the part of the newspaper, or they may be declined altogether.

Contributors are asked to keep their contributions to the matter at hand, and to focus on the issues and not abuse or insult others.

Other than in the case of holding public figures to account, criticism of others (as opposed to criticism of particular opinions) is unlikely to be published in the interests of facilitating the expression of a diversity of views.

All letter writers need to supply name, address and contact details. Only name and suburb will be published.

Contributors who do not wish the wording of their letter to be changed at all should make a note to this effect when submitting their letter. In some cases, this may result in the letter not being published.

Source lines

Peninsula News includes "source lines" at the end of each article which aim to provide readers with information about where and how we came across the information, so that they might judge for themselves the veracity of what they are reading.

It should not be assumed that the article is a verbatim reproduction of the source. Similarly, it should not be assumed that any reporter listed is necessarily responsible for writing the whole news item. Source lines are not by-lines.

Often articles come from a number of sources. They are edited for readability and reader interest and given different headings, and consequently can be expressed quite differently from the source material.

Peninsula News usually receives its information in three ways: It is sent to us by someone wanting to promote their activities; it is sent to us in response to our inquiries; or it comes from a newsletter or other document to which we have access.

Sometimes we may interview a person or report what they said at a meeting.

The following descriptions are used:

Media Release - unsolicited contributions. Media Statement - sent in response to our questions. Website or Social Media - information published online. Newsletter or Report - published in print or online. Interview or Meeting - statements recorded by a reporter.

Forum contributions may be: Email if sent electronically and Letter if written on paper.

Below average rainfall so far this month

The Peninsula has received just 24.2mm of rain for the month until September 18.

This is 64.1 per cent less than the September average of 68mm, according to figures provided by Mr Jim Morrison of Umina.

The majority of this month's rain has fallen on two days.

A fall of 13.5mm was recorded on September 5 and a fall of 9.0mm on September 10.

Despite the below average rainfall for the month, the total rainfall for the year remains above average.

The year-to-date total stands at 1247.1mm, compared to the average total at the end of September of 1000mm.

Trolley loads of groceries donated to Mary Mac's Place

The Rotary Club of Umina has donated trolley loads of groceries from a weekend collection at a local supermarket to Woy Woy charity Mary Mac's Place.

Club president Mr Bruce Croft said: "With the difficulties of Covid ongoing and many people out of work and struggling to acquire the necessities of life, Mary Mac's at Woy Woy are being called on more and more to provide meals and the items and facilities for personal hygiene.

In its continued support of Mary Mac's, the club held a grocery collection in the foyer of Umina Woolworths over the weekend of Saturday and Sunday, September 12 and 13.

"Many generous shoppers contributed four trolley loads of groceries and several hundred dollars in donations," Mr Croft said.

On the Monday, Mr Croft together with Rotarians Mr Mel Dodds and Mr Ian Johnson delivered three loaded grocery trolleys, one ute load, and one back seat full of groceries to Mary Mac's Place.

Woy Woy bingo resumes in Ettalong

Woy Woy Bingo has resumed, temporarily operating from the Ettalong Diggers Club on Wednesday nights, while coronavirus restrictions continue.

Previously held at the Peninsula Community Centre on Saturday nights, government restrictions imposing a limit at the centre of 20 people caused the bingo to be suspended.

Proceeds of the bingo go to Woy Woy Catholic Parish and support its community programs, including Mary Mac's Place, which provides lunches, showers and laundry facilities to people who are "homeless, transient or needing a helping hand".

"We met with Ettalong Diggers and the ballroom is more than suitable for us to hold our session," said organiser Mr Rob Graham.

"We have accepted their offer to host us temporarily on Wednesday nights.

"This is a great opportunity for us all to get back into it."

He said the session would run between 7:30pm and 10:30pm and have 51 games.

"You will need to have another member sign you in if you are not a member already."

"Walk in to the main bistro area and the ballroom is on the right."

Policy changed to allow burning at Patonga properties

Central Coast Council has modified its "open pile burning" policy to allow burning of "vegetative waste" on 58 properties at Patonga.

These properties are only assessable by boat and are without a Council green waste bin service.

They were previously excluded from open pile burning as the properties are smaller than the 4000 square metres provided by the policy.

In a report to the September 14 Council meeting, strategic environmental planner Ms Kendal Caynes stated that, under the Gosford Bushfire Risk Plan, the Patonga properties had a low fire risk.

The policy amendment will apply to properties which had "a genuine need to manage dead and dry vegetation through open pile burning on their land, beyond what is practicable to manage through Council's green waste services or transport waste via boat to Council's landfill facility".

The council agreed to reduce pile sizes for these properties to one metre and the distance from buildings to three metres.

The meeting was told: "The NSW Rural Fire Service has reviewed the recommended Policy amendments and has no objection."

"The NSW Rural Fire Service supports this recommendation as the remote boat access only communities have little scope to mitigate fuel levels legally."

Eligible landowners are not required to submit a permit to council to start open pile burning but they must provide 24 hours' notice of their intention.

Online and on-site voting for Diggers' board

The Ettalong Beach War Memorial Club, trading as Ettalong Diggers, will hold its annual meeting both on-site and online at 4pm on October 24 this year.

"Members may attend the annual general meeting either in person or via a Zoom meeting, so that the Covid-19 Pandemic does not prevent members from attending," said chief executive Mr Bill Jackson.

Elections will be held for two positions on the board, with nomination forms available from Mr Jackson from Friday, September 25.

Members wishing to vote online were required to register with the club before 5pm on October 9, he said.

If it is confirmed that there are more than two nominees, requiring an election, the returning officer will send out the required voting information.

Those registered to vote on-line will not be able to vote on site, and vice-versa, Mr Jackson said.

"The Board is, like most of our members, dismayed that this pandemic has resulted in such community uncertainty

"However, we have the opportunity to combine on-line technology and face to face meetings, to help protect the health and well-being of our members while allowing as many as possible to participate in the meeting."

He can remember the Harbour Bridge being built

Mr Harry May of Daleys Point can remember watching the Sydney Harbour Bridge being built – and when the train fare from his home at Punchbowl to Wynyard was sixpence.

Mr May turned 100 on September 15 but still lives independently, does his own housework and shopping, and walks every day.

"A lady comes in once a fortnight to tidy up a bit, but apart from that I handle everything else," he said.

A veteran who saw service with the 35th Battalion in Papua New Guinea during World War II, Mr May has a multitude of memories, including watching the Sydney Harbour Bridge being built from a hill near his house at Punchbowl and then walking over the bridge a week before it officially opened as a schoolboy.

"I remember it vividly," he said.

"Right behind our home there was a big paddock with a high hill and we could see eight or nine miles – right through to Sydney.

"We used to watch the bridge being built and then I walked over it just before it officially opened in 1932.

"I did it again in 1982, but that time there were about a quarter of a million people walking with me."

Mr May is the only living member of the 35th Battalion but does not dwelt on his wartime experiences.

A clerical worker for much of his life, Mr May was married for 50 years but has no children.

"I have a nephew in Newcastle and he and his wife are my closest family members now," he said.

"But I have wonderful friends and enjoy going out to dinner with them once a week."

Mr May said he had led a "fairly quiet life", had never smoked and drank alcohol rarely.

"I have never been very political but I do remember when Jack Lang was Prime Minister and brought in the widows' pension," he said.

"It was just the right timing for my mother, who had four young children.

"I was the eldest at the age of nine and we were always grateful for that."

Formerly a keen golfer, tennis player and cyclist, Mr May is content to fill his days with keeping his home tidy and working in his beloved garden.

"I'd say gardening and talking are my chief hobbies these days," he said.

"I still walk every day, although these days it is with a walker – and I read the paper every day."

Mr May said he was disappointed the milestone birthday could not be celebrated with a big party due to coronavirus.

"You have to follow the rules – that's all you can do," he said.

"We were going to have a party but it's just too hard – I have some distant relatives in Sydney but most of them are in hotspots now."

Brigade offers online advice instead of open day

The Bays Rural Fire Brigade is offering individual online advice in place of its open day planned for last Saturday, September 19.

"This year, due to Covid-19, we will not be opening the fire station for Get Ready Weekend," said captain Mr Stephen O'Donoghue.

"We are disappointed we will not be able to have an opportunity to catch up with our local community.

"We are adapting to the challenges of the Covid-19 restrictions.

"For this year's Get Ready Weekend, we will be offering a personal 20-minute Zoom meeting for residents in our community to interact, ask questions or seek advice."

He said the sessions would be available through this week until Friday, September 25.

"If you would like to take part, email secretary.thebays@ccrfs.org.au with a preferred time and we will be in touch to confirm and send you a link so that we can catch up."

Mr O'Donoghue said other resources were available through the Rural Fire Service website, rfs.nsw.gov.au, including information on how to prepare for the upcoming fire season.

"Now is a great time to put together your fire plan," he said.

"Last fire season we saw how the impact of fires can be devastating.

"We were fortunate not to be directly impacted in our area.

"My appreciation goes to the many brigades, including ours, that put in a magnificent effort to contain the Gospers Mountain fire and restrict the affected area to west of the M1.

"Overall, The Bays brigade had crews attending local and out of area fires from July to January, with over 800 on the fireground.

"We look forward to talking to you during the week and appreciate all the support our local community has given us over many years and particularly last fire season."

CWA branch receives grant for internet and television

The Country Women's Association Umina Beach branch has received a Council grant of $3988 for internet connection, a television and speakers.

Mayor Cr Lisa Matthews said the recent funding awarded through the Community Support Grant Program reflects Council's commitment to work within our communities to connect people, build capacity and create local solutions and initiatives.

Eight applicants were successful, sharing a funding pool of $31,188.61.

However, an application from the Lions Club of Woy Woy to cover the costs of council fees for its car boot sale and market in Dunbar Rd was unsuccessful.

In a report prepared for the September 14 Council meeting, Community Planning and Funding team leader Mr Stuart Slough said the application was not recommended for funding "as the application is not suited to this grant program".

He recommended the applicant "liaise with Council Grants Officers and identify more suitable grant programs".

Mr Slough said: "Council's grant programs are provided to support the community to deliver quality programs, projects or events that build connections, celebrate our local community, that align with the One-Central Coast Community

Strategic Plan and build capacity across the entire Central Coast community.

"The Community Support Grant Program is provided to support the community to deliver activities which require a small amount of funding and/or in-kind support."

He said the program provided support for activities that required "in-kind support through the provision of subsidised access to Council services" and "financial assistance for community activities that require a smaller amount of support".

Mr Slough recommended the CWA grant as "community benefit is demonstrated and all required information is provided".

Over-55s village is almost finished

A manufactured home park project in Springwood St, Umina, is almost finished, a little more than six months after construction commenced in March and nine months after Council approval in December.

The project, undertaken by owner aged care provider Peninsula Villages, "will see a total of 18 new modular apartments be added to the site which means 27 units in total", said chief executive Mr Shane Neaves.

Tenants have been moving in over recent weeks, he said.

"Final touches include two more units to be dropped into the site as well as completion of landscaping and streetscape works.

"With a mix of one and two bedroom units, the over-55s village has all been planned with the latest ergonomic considerations and built to ensure compliance with both senior and disability measures," he said.

"We are pleased to be able to provide local seniors with access to affordable housing," he said.

Changes approved for renovations at club

Changes to renovations at a Woy Woy licensed club have been approved by Central Coast Council.

The Everglades Country Club Ltd has successfully applied to Central Coast Council to amend its 2019 development consent for alterations and additions to the club at 9 Dunbar Rd.

Council has agreed to modify the consent to change the materials used on the deck, redesign the roofed area and include a children's play area and putt putt golf area on part of an existing bowling green with covered cabanas.

A two-page statement in support of the application by McFadyen Architects Pty Ltd said the approved development proposal included alterations and additions to the existing club.

The approved development included a new covered and open timber decking entertainment area, new bar, cafe and preparation area and removal of existing toilet building, covered roof area, tensile roof and planters.

"The change of the roof design and introduction of the individual cabanas will create a more continuous and integrated external space for immediate use and for the future," the statement said.

"The amended proposal was developed as a result of the club management further developing an alternative design to provide better weather protection for the club patrons in winter and summer and to incorporate a more holistic philosophical approach, encouraging use of the club premises by a more diverse demographic with an emphasis on being child-friendly and contemporary in the available services.

"The concrete paving and stormwater drainage to the existing external areas will remain with the decking fixed to a low-profile batten system.

"The bushfire assessment for the new proposal does not change from the original proposal.

"As noted in the original statement of environmental effects, it is not anticipated there will be any detrimental effect to neighbouring amenity as there will be no overshadowing of adjacent premises, no visual impact and any acoustic impact from use of the children's playground area will be limited due to the separation distance to the dwellings to the west and buffering by existing building locations.

"The existing parking provision is generous and it is not anticipated there will be traffic generation issues resulting from the proposal.

"It is considered that the proposed development is substantially the same as the original development given its intended use despite some physical elements differing."

It is proposed to have seven-day trading in the alfresco area from 6.30am to 11pm and in the Child Play area and Putt Putt from 9am to 9pm.

The land has been classified as being under a "flood planning level" and subject to the imposition of a minimum floor level.

No firm date for water main project, despite 22 breaks

Hardys Bay residents says they have experienced 22 water main breaks along Araluen Dr within 18 months, but have been given no date for a project designed to fix the problem.

"We were told that the full length of the water main was going to be replaced in 2019 and still nothing has happened," said resident Ms

Pauline Garde.

Hardys Bay Residents Group president Mr Adrian Williams said that, despite discussing the issue with Council staff since June last year, "we still have no firm date for a repair or replacement to the street's water mains issue".

"With help from Cr Jane Smith, we had a Zoom meeting with water and sewerage director Jamie Loader, where a few elements of this issue were addressed," Mr Williams said.

Mr Loader said the project was a part of the council's capital works program which needed to go through regulatory approval and environmental consideration before construction could start.

"It's high on our list of priorities, and we recognise the inconvenience it's causing every time it breaks," Mr Loader said.

"We are apologetic to the residents, and we are moving as fast as we can."

He said he hoped work could start by March next year.

Ms Garde said her house had experienced three breaks which caused the loss of mature trees and plants in her front yard, with the most recent break in August.

"I could only imagine the Council would be paying a heavy price by having to call in emergency crews to fix these pipes," Ms Garde said.

Waste Resource Strategy - an exciting future direction for managing waste

On 14 September, 2020, Council adopted our Central Coast Waste Resource Strategy. The vision of the strategy is to "promote the Central Coast as a creative environment for developing a local circular economy that values the recovery of resources and advocates prevention of waste".

This is an exciting change - it recognises the importance of preventing waste in the first place and has a focus on a circular economy.

The NSW Government released a "Circular Economy Policy Statement" in February 2019. A circular economy "values resources by keeping products and materials in use for as long as possible". This will bring major economic, social and environmental benefits and will contribute to job creation.

Importantly, our Council will prioritise moving towards FOGO (Food Organics and Garden Organics) processing. This is already in place in 43 Councils around NSW - so we can learn from their experiences. 59% of our kerbside waste is organic, including food waste and other organic waste - so there is an opportunity to reduce the amount of organic waste going to landfill.

Other initiatives in the strategy include:

- Education - our community is an important part of the solution
- Engaging with large waste generators such as supermarkets and health care industries to minimise waste
- Working with local businesses to undertake waste audits so that they can reduce waste (and also save money!)
- Promoting the reuse, repair and repurposing of household items - including a possible "tip shop"
- Look at Council's own operations to reduce waste and improve practices - and support local waste solution providers, where possible
- Investigating the idea of a precinct that has recycling and reprocessing facilities.

Council staff have done a great job in developing this strategy and are already leading the way with initiatives such as the use of soft plastics in the construction of roads and smart litter bins.

Our Youth are calling for stronger action on climate change - we need to listen

Our Council recognizes the need for meaningful action on climate change. Increasingly, we are experiencing more extreme weather events and more frequently - just as scientists have been predicting. These have serious economic, social and environmental costs that we can't ignore.

On 12 March 2018, Council committed to strong action on Climate Change, joining the Cities Power Partnership (CPP) and developing a Climate Change Policy. The community has demonstrated through consultation that they want Council to show leadership in this area. Council adopted a Climate Change Policy on 8 July 2019 and this is being implemented. Of course, we need to do more.

We continue to see a lack of leadership at State and Federal levels, by both major parties.

Our young people are speaking up - it is their future that will be most impacted and we need to listen to them.

Friday, 25 September is a Global Day of Action for Climate Change - there will be limited opportunity to come together due to COVID, however, I encourage everybody to use that day to support meaningful action on Climate Change.

Our Community contributing to solutions

Many people are doing their part in reducing, reusing and recycling.

There are opportunities to get involved - through community gardens, Men's Sheds, events such as Clean Up Australia Day, as well as joining other groups that advocate and educate to reduce waste.

Changes approved for renovations at club

Changes to renovations at a Woy Woy licensed club have been approved by Central Coast Council.

The Everglades Country Club Ltd has successfully applied to Central Coast Council to amend its 2019 development consent for alterations and additions to the club at 9 Dunban Rd.

Council has agreed to modify the consent to change the materials used on the deck, redesign the roofed area and include a children's play area and putt putt golf area on part of an existing bowling green with covered cabanas.

A two-page statement in support of the application by McFadyen Architects Pty Ltd said the approved development proposal included alterations and additions to the existing club.

The approved development included a new covered and open timber decking entertainment area, new bar, cafe and preparation area and removal of existing toilet building, covered roof area, tensile roof and planters.

"The change of the roof design and introduction of the individual cabanas will create a more continuous and integrated external space for immediate use and for the future," the statement said.

"The amended proposal was developed as a result of the club management further developing an alternative design to provide better weather protection for the club patrons in winter and summer and to incorporate a more holistic philosophical approach, encouraging use of the club premises by a more diverse demographic with an emphasis on being child-friendly and contemporary in the available services.

"The concrete paving and stormwater drainage to the existing external areas will remain with the decking fixed to a low-profile batten system.

neighbouring amenity as there will be no overshadowing of adjacent premises, no visual impact and any acoustic impact from use of the children's playground area will be limited due to the separation distance to the dwellings to the west and buffering by existing building locations.

House demolition permitted

A Complying Development Certificate has been issued by Central Coast Council to permit demolition of a fire-damaged house in Umina.

The two-storey fire-damaged house was located at 67 Greenhaven Dr.

The certificate became effective on September 10 and the applicant has five years to complete the demolition of the building.

A temporary hoarding or temporary construction site fence must be erected between the work site and adjoining lands before the works begin and must be kept in place until after the completion of works if the works could cause a danger, obstruction or inconvenience to pedestrian or vehicular traffic, or could cause damage to adjoining lands by falling objects.

Demolition may only be carried out between 7am and 5pm on Monday to Saturday and no demolition is to be carried out at any time on a Sunday or a public holiday.

Proposal for three two-storey units

Public submissions are being accepted by Central Coast Council until Friday, September 25, about a development application that would replace a single dwelling with three two-storey units in Ettalong.

The proposed multi-dwelling housing would be constructed at 55 Springwood St, a flat 746 square metre block.

All units would have three bedrooms.

Car access would be via a central driveway to separate garages for each dwelling.

Each unit would have ground floor private open space areas, internal storage, a space to locate bins away from the street and screened clothes drying areas.

A Statement submitted to support the proposal said the units would have a "lightweight appearance with a mixture of weatherboard cladding rather than the more extensive masonry".

It said such elements were "identified within the Council's desired character elements for the Ettalong Beach – Medium Density precinct".

The site is located within a Coastal Environment Area under the State Environmental Planning Policy – Coastal Management but, according to the developer's statement, the proposal will not have an impact upon the coastal environment and is therefore consistent with the requirements of the Policy.

It is also within a "coastal use" area under the State Policy but, according to the developer's report, the proposal has been "found to be consistent with the requirements for developments within the coastal use area and will not result on any impact within the coastal features located on the site".

The proposal falls short of the minimum lot size required for multiple-dwelling housing in the Gosford Local Environmental Plan, which is 750 square metres but the developer argued that the variation is justified.

Application for granny flat display centre

A residential block on the Esplanade at Ettalong will be the location for a temporary coffee shop and granny flat display centre.

The location, 44 The Esplanade near the corner of Picnic Parade, is the subject of a development application with Central Coast Council.

The only related document currently available on Council's DA Tracker is a public submission requesting that the developer "tidy up the existing trees for shade for the coffee shop".

The estimated cost of the project, which was lodged on September 2, is $52,000.

The DA Tracker indicates that Council staff are awaiting additional information from the applicant following a pre-lodgement review.

Councillors achieve three years in office

Central Coast Councillors have been in office for three years.

If it were not for the coronavirus pandemic, they would have been due for election on September 12 and would have been telling of their achievements in their election campaigns.

The elections have been postponed until September 4 next year.

Gosford West Ward councillors, who represent the Peninsula, saw as the most significant achievements over the past three years.

Cr Richard Mehrtens was the only councillor to respond.

He cited the resolution of issues with the rebuilding of Umina Mall, the free tree program and town centre banners.

He said the new Umina Mall project was expected to commence before the end of the year.

"This has been a decade in the making and it should not have taken the amount of effort it did to get this $12 million investment into our community on track," Cr Mehrtens said.

"I am pleased that the community will finally have their local shops back, bigger and better than ever."

Cr Richard Mehrtens

Cr Mehrtens said the Free Tree Program was "an investment in better communities tomorrow and are vital in identified urban heat islands like the Peninsula".

"One of the great things I get to see is the free tree stalls at various community events and the lines of excited residents looking to take their new plant home," Cr Mehrtens said.

"There are few better things we can do as an individual or household than to add a tree to our yards and nature strips as they reduce temperatures, protect against the weather and increase property prices."

Cr Mehrtens said that were few issues as unpopular as the former Gosford Council's decision to remove town centre banners from Umina and put the onus back on to community groups to pay for seasonal banners.

"After a lot of pushing and working with staff, I am so pleased that the banners have returned to Umina and Gosford, giving just that little bit more life to our town centres," he said.

"Residents said banners had made West St feel alive and it was different after they were removed.

"To add insult to injury, council had continued to fund and install banners on former Wyong Council assets but because the policy didn't extend to Gosford they couldn't possibly do it."

Cr Mehrtens also listed other achievements as the Central Coast Greener Places Strategy, Woy Woy Wharf funding and a Woy Woy Town Centre Structure Plan to guide public realm improvements.

Another achievement was the opening of the Woy Woy Oval kiosk after more than five years sitting dormant.

Rotary hears about rainforest book

Tascott author Mr Peter Fisher has spoken at the Rotary Club of Umina Beach about his new book, Tales from the Rainforest.

The book details the history and heritage of different forests in the area, and includes walking trails, tourism spots, plant collection and water sources.

Mr Fisher presented his book to the members of the club along with some information and historical photographs, including copies of 100-year-old postcards and aboriginal carvings.

He also spoke about local reserves like Dillon's Farm near Woy Woy tip, Somersby Falls, Waterfall Bay, Kendall's Rock, Katandra Reserve, and the Forest of Tranquillity.

House fire attended by 40 firefighters

Four fire trucks and one "aerial appliance" from Fire and Rescue NSW and three trucks from NSW Rural Fire Service, as well as NSW Police and NSW Ambulance, attended a three-storey house fire at Killcare Heights on September 6.

With about 40 firefighters on the scene, the fire which started at around 6pm was put out by 10pm.

Acting inspector Rodney Tabone for Fire and Rescue NSW said upon arrival crews found the house well alight with flames in the top two levels fanned by a brisk breeze.

Mr Tabone said the blaze was threatening adjoining houses, but fire crews were able to prevent the spread.

"Fortunately, the house was a weekender and no residents were at home," Mr Tabone said.

NSW Rural Fire Service Inspector Ben Shepherd said both fire agencies got to work very quickly and were able to contain the damage to the top two storeys of the house.

Woy Woy resident Mr Jim Coyle has received a Pride of Workmanship Award from the Rotary Club of Woy Woy in a surprise ceremony at his workplace.

Members of the club visited Narara Valley Nursery and were shown around by Mr Coyle and assistant manager Ms Vicky Martin.

She said the award recognised his "great attitude to work, willingness to contribute to his team and going out of his way to help visitors with plant choice and after-care".

In addition to his work at the nursery, he was also a carer for his mum.

Ms Walker said Mr Coyle had been working at the nursery for seven years, initially gaining work experience there while he was studying horticulture at Ourimbah TAFE.

Ms Martin said he had several responsibilities including stock maintenance, nursery duties and customer service.

She said the award was well-deserved for Jim's continual efforts to help customers.

Use of bikes in parks is not black and white

It is with increasing anxiety that I have been watching the developments between the mountain bike and national park community groups. ("Police investigate tyre spikes on national park trail, Peninsula News 500, 10 August 2020)

I fear that views on how we use the park are becoming more divisive and arguments, on each side, are very black and white.

I understand points on both sides and hope I can contribute some compromise and clarity.

I can't see exactly how the coronavirus situation has directly contributed to polarising the debate but I do sense the huge influx of people at this time has also increased the tensions.

It is precisely at times like this we need to be kind to each other and understand we all have to find ways to ease the growing stress.

There are many shades of grey within the riding community and some of us have been riding in this area for many years without issues.

We ride the trails as a passive way to be in nature and appreciate our beautiful environment.

On the road we are not safe from the aggression and abuse of drivers and when we cycle the trails we are respectful and careful of the indigenous sites, flora, fauna and other users.

I have noticed recently an increase in the creation of extreme side trails with jumps and turns.

I have been increasingly concerned that some of the people creating these adrenaline-inducing trails are doing it without thought to the damage caused to the fragile flora.

I support the requests from this group to have an area created for this style of mountain biking and I can understand the appeal (if only I was younger).

With proper planning and development by qualified specialists, the sport can be a drawcard for Central Coast tourism.

Promoting collaboration between National Parks and Wildlife Service and trail designers we could have a valuable addition to our area while at the same time preserving the integrity of the park.

However, I am alarmed and saddened when I read comments by some locals, and others, wanting all biking banned from all areas of the park or banished to a concentrated section for the "hardcore" cyclists.

As a long term hiking and cycling resident of Killcare, I am seeking a guarantee that I will be able to access the park trails adjacent to our property for local commuting, exercise, riding with grandchildren and friends.

This would enable myself and many others I know to sustain positive mental and physical health.

Fear creates friction, so if we all want to keep using the trails, together we must observe proper etiquette, be aware and courteous.

Riders should call out and be vigilant so as to not scare hikers.

The natural bushland fragile areas should be respected.

I appeal to all sides to be understanding and communicate with each other.

Let's make our interactions congenial and respectful and, when passing on the trails, greet each other with a smile.

Frustrated with trend to advertising litter?

Am I alone in my frustration at the latest trend for advertising material by supermarkets and other organisations to now appear on the ground at the foot of my letterbox which has a "No Junk Mail" sticker?

I have no beef with those people who read and gain information from such literature when it is placed legally in their letterbox, but I choose otherwise.

Forum

An email to Central Coast Council was answered fairly quickly but the essence of the reply was that I needed to provide details of the perpetrator for action to be taken.

That is difficult, when the nuisance appears to happen during darkness at the foot of our long driveway.

When I supplied images of the material, I was told the Council Officer would contact the distribution company.

The material kept coming.

I had to resort to a large hand-written ugly sign before the pollution stopped.

I then removed the sign and the illegal rubbish appeared again.

Yes, it is illegal because Section 144A of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 defines advertising material as any paper product (including a leaflet, brochure or magazine) or other material thing, that contain advertising or promotional matter.

Advertising material can only be deposited in three ways – directly into people's letterboxes, into newspaper receptacles or under doors to premises.

People cannot place advertising material under a vehicle's windscreen wipers (or wedged into a car door), on top of property gates or fences, in a public place, in open private places and in other inappropriate areas where it has the potential to become litter.

The pile of such material outside some homes in our street clearly signals to those of a light-fingered persuasion that the house is empty.

If you have a similar problem, please join me in my single-handed campaign to stop this latest violation of our pollution laws and do something for the environment.

Take your own trolley if you want to put your dog in it

I was amazed the other morning to see a gentleman with his small dog in a shopping trolley walking around the store in Umina doing his shopping.

It was just after 7am and the dog was sitting on his blanket in the shopping trolley.

I understand that people need companion animals and do like to take them shopping.

However, I believe that hygiene should come first.

Other people would use the trolley and place their fresh fruit and vegetables, meat and other foods in the trolley not knowing it had been the resting place of a dog.

Please, if you need to take your animal into the shop, either have your own trolley or, if this is not possible, put the dog on a lead and it can walk.

If it is too old to walk around the shop, then maybe just leave it at home or with a friend.

Not everybody loves your dog the way you do.

Dog poo is a pollutant and health hazard

Dog poo is an environmental pollutant and a human health hazard with bacteria and parasites harmful to humans and spreads disease.

It is estimated that a single gram of dog waste can contain 23 million faecal coliform bacteria which is known to cause cramps, diarrhea, intestine illness and serious kidney disorders in humans.

Forum

Dog poo not picked up becomes riddled with maggots in warm weather and carries diseases and parasites.

Dog poo can carry the parvovirus, a potentially deadly intestinal virus that is shed in faeces.

The parvovirus can live in the environment for a very long time.

There is supposed to be a law to fine people who do not pick up their dog poo when walking.

This law should also apply to homeowners.

People should be made aware of the responsibility of owning a dog.

Second aged care provider pays bonus shortfall

A second local aged care provider has decided to dip into its own reserves to ensure all staff received the equivalent of the Government's aged care retention bonus.

"The team at Peninsula Villages is dedicated to working in a positive environment where all staff are equal and deserving of this bonus," said chief executive Mr Shane Neaves.

He said he was pleased with this decision and felt encouraged that all staff will be recognised for their support to residents.

Last month, Blue Wave Living in Woy Woy decided to pay all its staff on the same basis.

Payments will be made to those who have been excluded from the government bonus scheme, including laundry and maintenance staff, cleaners, reception and administration workers.

It will also be paid to nursing staff who were excluded because their role was predominately administrative in nature.

Mr Neaves said: "The Board is supportive of providing this bonus to acknowledge our great culture and that all staff provide key services and care to our residents, not just those defined by the hierarchy as 'direct care workers'.

"In my eyes as a not-for-profit working in an incredibly tough sector, it's bad form and we're very disappointed that not everyone in our industry is being recognised for their efforts in what has been a really challenging year."

Podcasts made for Women’s Health Week

Brisbane Waters Private Hospital has released a series of podcasts in support of Women’s Health Week.

The podcast is part of hospital owner Healthe Care Australia’s project to promote women’s health and encourage women to get regular health check-ups.

Community relationship manager Ms Petrina Waddell said the podcasts for Brisbane Waters Private Hospital focused on local female surgeons and practitioners.

“We just want to profile the resources that we have here in the community, in line with Women’s Health Week,” Ms Waddell said.

“Other Healthe Care hospitals are doing this as well, but for the Central Coast, we are highlighting the services of our local doctors.”

The podcast features guest speakers like specialist breast surgeon Dr Mary Ling, neurosurgeon Dr Vanessa Sammons, clinical psychiatrist Dr Su Kalava, as well as journalist Ms Jane Worthington, and Member for Gosford Ms Liesl Tesch.

Ms Tesch will be sharing the story of community member Andrew Church who is currently battling stage four cancer.

“I want to share Andrew’s journey. He was only just running for parliament four years ago and is now battling cancer,” Ms Tesch said.

“He has always been an advocate for healthy living and getting regular health checks, so I want to raise awareness for this.”

She said it was crucial not only for women to get free cancer checks but also for men, as there was a high level of bowel cancer within the community.

“Let’s make sure we take advantage of these free opportunities and give ourselves some peace of mind,” Ms Tesch said.

Ms Waddell said the podcast was an informal educational session that pushed the importance of women’s health and awareness to the front of the communities’ mind.

“We want to create those little light bulb moments where women will start listening and paying attention to their bodies,” Ms

Waddell said.

Ms Tesch said she was optimistic the podcast would encourage the community to actively think about their health every day and into the future.

The podcast will continue after Women’s Health Week is finished.

Aged care home reviews future in-person visits

A Woy Woy aged care provider is reviewing the way it will manage in-person visits once the facility re-opens to visitors.

“We have had some enquiries regarding booking the ‘I See U’ program when we are allowed to re-open to visitors,” said chief executive Mr Matt Downie.

The program operated before the recent lockdown.

It allowed “residents and family to see each other and talk to each other while maintaining safe social distancing via the use of tables between our residents and visitors”, he said.

“This ensures social distancing measures are safely maintained, however allows loved ones to see each other in person.”

Mr Downie said that, to be fair to all, the visits were limited to no more than 30 minutes, and no more than one visit a week, Monday to Friday, 9am to 2:30pm.

He said that “in response to some concerns raised”, the number of visitors each resident could receive in a visit would also be limited “should that be the only option for a face to face visit once we re-open”.

“We will provide information around this once we have clarity as to when we can re-open to visitors.

“NSW Health have decided to continue to instruct aged care facilities in Sydney and Central Coast to remain closed to all visitors.

“We are very mindful this is difficult for all involved, but we do need to operate in line with NSW Health directions.”

Mr Downie said: “We continue to offer Facetime and Skype type calls, and phone calls as additional means for family to keep in touch with loved ones.”

Bookings could be made via reception.

New resident moves in at 103

A 103-year-old woman has become one of the new residents at a recently opened aged care wing.

Ms Nancye Williams has moved into Pozieres House at Peninsula Village in Umina.

A big change for Nancye who has moved to the beautiful Central Coast from sunny

She moved from Sawtell on the Mid North Coast to be closer to her family.

Ms Williams has two daughters, four grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Peninsula Village chief executive Mr Shane Neaves said: "Nancye has had a good life that and is pleased to move to the sunny Central Coast.

"She met her future husband, Dale Williams, before the War and he was posted overseas with the army to Singapore.

"They kept in touch and married in 1946 and lived in Manly.

"Many happy years were spent in the area and days at the beach were a favourite outing with their children.

"After their daughters moved and married, the love of travel took over their later years and they had many trips to Europe.

"After moving to Carlingford and then Sawtell and losing her beloved Dale, at her 103rd birthday, it was decided she needed supported care and Pozieres House was chosen close to family.

"Her seven great grandchildren will soon be able to see Great Nan a lot more."

Yuki completes five-month leadership program

Brisbane Water Secondary College Woy Woy campus student Yuki Rodden completed a five-month leadership program

"Leadership is all about serving others, so this was a really great opportunity for her to get stuck in," said teacher Mr Rob Brown.

"It's a really great program to help build leadership capacity, particularly within the Covid climate with how well they adapted.

"It really showed the kids the skills they need to be able to succeed and think quickly on their feet."

Mr Brown said Yuki's community project in the Max Potential program followed her interest in the fitness industry and was about safely engaging the community into fitness groups to improve mental wellbeing after the staged lockdown.

"She's done a fantastic job and to have the resilience and grit to stick through it, maintain her grades and keep up with all her extra-curricular activities, as well as the program, is just a testament to Yuki's character."

Yuki receives awards from teacher Rob Brown

Mr Brown said students' skills were developed by focusing on a project or area of need within their own communities.

This year's project aimed at how leaders could help rebuild community access in a post-Covid-19 world, with nominated students having the pick of around 2000 community coaches to liaise with.

CWA branch sponsors student excursions and activities

The Umina Beach branch of the Country Women's Association has donated funds to Umina Beach Public School to help students participate in excursions and educational activities.

Branch publicity officer Ms Margaret Key said the idea to donate funds came at the suggestion of branch president Ms Rikki McIntosh.

"In the past, we have donated as individuals to charities at Christmas," Ms Key said.

"Rikki suggested that it would be lovely to support our local primary school."

Branch members who want to contribute can choose an amount to be donated each month, which is then presented to the school.

Due to this month's donation of $440, Kindergarten students were all able to attend the recent Australian Reptile Park visit to the school, with pythons, lizards, turtles and a baby alligator.

Students were taught how to safely touch the animals, and the importance of avoiding them in the wild.

Ms Key said she was pleased with what the club had achieved for the school and the opportunities that it gave to the students.

"We wanted to support the school, so no kids miss out on school events because of money," Ms Key said.

"We want to bring all women and families together and form a network of support within the community."

Ms Key said branch members intended to continue to donate to the school once a month into the foreseeable future.

Student reports on Girrakool and Bulgandry excursions

Woy Woy Public School student Deizel Douglas has written about a Stage

2 excursion to aboriginal art sites at Girrakool and Bulgandry on Monday and Tuesday, August 24 and 25.

His account appeared in the school newsletter Namalata on Monday, September 14.

"We learnt about the traditional owners of the land," he said.

"We learnt about their engravings and the tools they used like boomerangs, spears, axes, leaves, grinding rocks and volcanic rocks to make axes.

"They use wattle leaves for soap and they use the soap to clean themselves before going hunting so the animals cannot smell them.

"They also use the soap for a poison to stun the fish so they can catch them and eat them." Deizel said the students walked to a waterfall.

"We sat quietly and heard a frog.

"We also saw a brush turkey."

He said the aborigines lived sustainably.

"This means that there is enough for everyone."

"The aborigines lived off the land, learnt how to make fire, eat bush tucker, make soap and do lots of things using the local environment."

If they could not get what they needed in their own environment, they would trade with other tribes, he said.

"Aboriginals were the first people to make bread over 40,000 years ago, before the Egyptians did."

Deizel said: "I really enjoyed this excursion."

Student finishes in top five of national music competition

Brisbane Waters Secondary College student Sam Windley has finished in the top five in a competition to find Australia's best high school musical act.

"Unfortunately I didn't win," she said.

"But I am still so happy. This is such a huge achievement."

She said she looked forward to the opportunities it would bring.

Her song, Neighbours in the Morning, was entered in the Triple J Unearthed High competition and was already accessible on the Triple J Unearthed website.

It was placed second on the Unearthed rock genre chart for the week ending September 13, and 28th overall on a top 100 chart.

Sam said the song was inspired around hypothetical stereotypes, people watching and observing different things neighbours do throughout the day.

She said she had been playing the guitar from a young age and started singing when she was 12.

"My songwriting is based on feeling," she said.

"I feel like I have all these songs just brewing inside of me, and then every few months, I will sit down and just start writing."

With Year 12 finishing up in a few months, she said she was looking forward to the possibilities of a musical career.

"This is something I definitely want to keep doing."

"I really love playing live music," she said.

Woy Woy students discover flying fox skull

Stage 2 science students at Woy Woy Public School have discovered what is believed to be a flying fox skull while cataloguing the leaf litter of their Bush Tucker Garden on September 1.

"The skull is 7cm long and 4cm wide, with some teeth intact," said science teacher Ms Lisa Mills.

Ms Mills said the discovery was made by student Patti Bisson.

"After some research at the Gympie Bone Museum in Queensland and further research through the principal of Rumbalara Environmental Education Centre in Gosford, we came to the consensus that the skull possibly belongs to a grey-headed flying fox."

Excursion to outdoor education camp

Stage 3 students from Pretty Beach Public School attended an outdoor education camp at Mangrove Mountain.

Assistant principal Mr Dave Rattray said: "Our students had an absolute ball."

"We climbed on a high ropes course, shot arrows with a bow at archery, and swung from a 15m giant swing.

"We were encouraged to venture outside our comfort zones and support each other to be brave, courageous and resilient."

Scholarship available for Bays resident

The Bays Community Group has announced an annual scholarship for students who need help with educational projects.

The $250 scholarship is currently open for applications from students of all abilities and ages in secondary and tertiary education.

Committee member Ms Ylenna Zajec said past successful applications had included progression in a musical career and attendance at a mathematical symposium.

"Shortlisted applicants will be invited to provide a brief presentation either in person or, in special circumstances, by their representative to the committee," Ms Zajec said.

"The successful student will be asked to inform the community of their achievements by giving a presentation at a Bays' meeting or by submitting a written account."

Applicants must be residents of The Bays area, including Horsfield Bay, Phegans Bay and Woy Woy Bay.

Applications must include the purpose of the project, finish date, expected outcome and how the scholarship will help the student achieve their desired outcome.

Participants may also include links to websites, social media platforms and photographs with the application closing date on October 31.

School photos taken individually

Students at Umina Beach Public School will be photographed individually, rather than in class groups "to eliminate the need for students to be in close contact with staff".

The school photographs will be taken this Wednesday, September 23.

"A class group composite photo will be created from the individual photos," said principal Ms Lyn Davis.

"There are no group photos at all, except sibling photos."

"This year, the format for school photos will change to a group composite style."

"Each student will be photographed individually, with the group created digitally as a composite."

Arts Trail held on long weekend

The Bouddi Arts Trail will be held on the Saturday to Sunday of the long weekend, October 3 and 4, from 9am to 4pm.

Twelve local artists and artisans will open their studios and workshops to showcase a diverse range of works to visitors.

These works include paintings in a variety of mediums and genres, silver jewellery, canvas and leather goods, photography and recycled timber boats and whales.

All studios are located along a route that aims to give visitors views of the beach, bay and bush along the way.

The trail starts from Killcare Heights, proceeds into Hardys Bay, and then through Pretty Beach to Wagstaffe.

Each studio will be observing coronavirus health restrictions, with a red flag flying in front of each for visibility.

Bouddi Foundation awards initial round of grants

The Bouddi Foundation for the Arts has awarded an initial round of grants to local young artists.

Now in its 10th year, the Foundation has introduced two new awards.

A new creative writing award went to Hardys Bay writer Lily Cameron, who will put the money towards her academic studies in creative writing.

The new Narelle Jones Memorial Award went to Woy Woy singer-songwriter Emily Mills, who will receive both financial support for her work in songwriting and mentoring to help in developing an EP and in marketing and promotion.

Awards also went to Hardys Bay photographer Jai Bloomfield, St Hubert's Island ballerina Amber Lynch, Phegan's Bay singer-songwriter Ruby Archer and Phegan's Bay visual artist, Zali Kassi.

Ruby Archer was also offered mentoring.

More grant winners will be announced with the Awards Event scheduled for the end of November.

The Foundations chair Mr John Bell said the Foundation's reputation and worth had been established "in the community, among teachers, parents, and especially the young artists themselves".

He said the process began with applications open from March to May, followed by a month of assessment and shortlisting by the panel's judges and then auditions at the Wagstaffe Community Hall in August.

"No one would have forecast auditions with masks, temperature-taking, and social distancing.

"Nonetheless, everyone displayed discipline, and nothing was lost in the standard of the performances or the quality of communication between grant applicants and their adjudication teams.

"With generous growth in donations, it is heart-warming that we are giving young artists hope, mentoring, and practical support at a time when the Arts community-at-large is struggling."

Applications came from 32 young artists, including dancers, singer/songwriters, painters, photographers, cinematographers, classical and popular instrumentalists, writers and art curators.

The full list of awardees will be announced by Mr Bell in November.

Bicycle group holds 'coffee cruise' to Woy Woy

The Central Coast Bicycle User Group plans to hold a Gosford-Woy Woy "coffee cruise" this Wednesday, September 23.

The 25km ride is scheduled to start on the shared path at Eat Street Cafe near the Gosford Pool at 7am.

The ride was described as a slow-paced ride along the beautiful coastal cycleway, with great views of Brisbane Waters. We ride over Spike Milligan bridge and through several parks along the way.

It is graded as easy, with an average pace of between 20 and 22km/h, and may include children aged 10 and older.

The estimated ride duration is two hours.

The group will stop for coffee "upon completion, or somewhere else if a better option is suggested and we have time".

Umina surf club hold awards presentation online

Umina Surf Life Saving Club held its annual senior awards presentation online on Saturday, September 12.

The awards aim to recognise club members for excellence across lifesaving, education, various surf sports and volunteering, said club president Mr Stephen Scahill.

The Club Person of the Year was Tom Magurren, who was "recognised for his all-round impact in the community through his lifesaving, coaching and volunteering efforts".

Mr Magurren said he loved to help in any way he could at the club where both his children and grandchildren were actively involved.

"It's a great thrill to watch the kids improve and I'm very honoured to have received this award," Mr Magurren said.

"Umina Surf Club is my second home.

"It's my happy place."

The Life Saving Award went to Jimmy Irwin.

Mr Irwin said the award was the result of a group effort and it was an honour to be recognised on their behalf.

"So many people contribute to the lifesaving efforts at Umina and I'm thrilled to be part of this club and part of such a strong team," Mr Irwin said.

Lifetime member Kerry Armstrong led Patrol 2 to the club's Patrol of the Year award, while Rick Boylan was recognised as the Patrol Captain of the Year.

Reigning Australian Young Life Saver of the Year Kai Darwin took out the club's Young Life Saver of the Year award.

CLASSIFIEDS ADVERTISING RATES

Classified advertising is the cheapest form of newspaper advertising. This newspaper is also published on line on the publication date, and is also read that way by hundreds of people. All advertisements, including these classified advertising pages, appear in full on-line as an additional benefit for free.

See www.coastcommunitynews.com.au

Central Coast Newspapers' classified advertising rates are relatively much lower than in other newspapers and at the same time much larger than in other newspapers, with the minimum size being 50mm X 42mm. Approximately 15,000 copies of this newspaper are printed and distributed every week.

Personal and Not For Profit Organisations

As Central Coast Newspapers are community newspapers, the cost of advertising not for profit organisations' events is subsidised. This makes them the same rate as non business advertisements.

A mono 5cm advertisement only costs $33. Each additional cm costs $6.60 as does colour, and/or a photograph or a logo. Private advertisements need to be paid for at the time of booking.

Business and In Memorium rates

The minimum size of 5cm X a single column only costs $50 + GST in mono and an extra $10 + GST for colour, a logo or a photograph.

Classified advertisements in all 3 papers are only $40+GST each.

Most businesses choose to advertise on an ongoing basis and discounts apply for multiple bookings, if they are paid for in full, in advance.

Having a prepaid classified advertisement run for 6 editions only costs $250 + GST and $50 + GST more for colour. For 12 editions, it is $495 + GST and $100+ GST more for colour. For 24 editions, it is only $950 + GST and $200 + GST for colour, a saving of $290 + GST.

Artwork is free and advertisers are encouraged to change their advertisements frequently

Three finals played at Umina on 'Super Saturday'

Umina Beach Men's Bowling Club has played three of its finals in a "Super Saturday" competition on September 12.

They were the Minor Singles, the Veteran Singles and the Minor Pairs championships, played what club president Mr Peter Springett described as "a great afternoon for bowls, with the sun shining".

Jim Phillips became the 56th winner of the club's Minor Singles championship, playing against Grant Watson.

"After a wobbly start, losing seven shots on the first two ends, Grant recovered to get himself back in the game," said Mr Springett.

"The score was neck and neck throughout, with Jim just managing to maintain a small lead, until the end."

The final score was 31-22.

Six-time club champion Allan Rhodes took out the Veteran Singles championship won against current veterans' champion Peter Springett by 22-8 in a first to 21-plus event.

This was only the second time this event has been held for the over-70s bowlers, which includes a large number of the club's members.

A former club champion, Peter Springett was no match for Allan on the day.

It was a hard-fought narrow win for John Hall and Terry Murphy in Umina's Minor Pairs final against Larry Johnston and Warren Brooks.

"Larry and Warren stormed out of the blocks to take a 13-2 lead after just a few ends, leaving John and Terry with an uphill battle to get back into the game."

The pair "managed to snatch the lead and cling to it" to finish with a final score of 22-21.

Bridge club attendance halves

Brisbane Water Bridge Club membership has declined to 80 per cent of its previous numbers, and its weekly attendance halved, due to the coronavirus epidemic.

These were the numbers given by Mr Peter Hume in his president's report to the club's annual meeting on September 12.

He said the club had 191 home club members last October, compared to the 174 in the previous October.

The club now has 158 home club members and 69 non-home club members, he said.

"After re-opening under a Covid Safety Plan in July, we are getting a weekly attendance of 25-30 tables, about half of our 2019 attendance.

"We have demonstrated to the community centre our reduced income and can report that proportionate to our reduced income, we have negotiated 50 per cent rent relief, to continue while current health restrictions are in place.

"Many of the club's members are playing online, mostly through the Combined Central Coast Bridge Club on BBO and Stepbridge Club.

"In June 2020, there were 29 members on Stepbridge, the fifth highest participation of the 150-plus clubs that play online there."

He said that, overshadowed by the coronavirus pandemic, "it's easy to forget what a wonderful year of bridge we had through 2019".

"The club was having a growth spurt, largely due to a welcome surge of beginners joining up.

"A recruitment drive, masterminded by teaching director Christine Hadaway, included volunteers setting up tables and playing in Woy Woy shopping centres and let people see bridge being played.

"The club's efforts were recognised with an article of support by Joan Butts, the ABF National Teaching Coordinator, in the ABF Newsletter of October.

"Participation grew in 2019, evidenced by a growth in the number of green masterpoints awarded: 822.90 in the 12 months to September 2019.

"The previous year 753.00 green masterpoints were awarded.

"This bonanza of points gave us entitlement to 19 red point events for 2020.

"The ABF Masterpoints Centre has agreed to grant clubs the same number of red point event entitlements in 2021 despite reduced activity in 2020.

"The Super Congress, our club's major event in July 2019 attracted just under 50 tables of players on both days of the weekend.

"On a budget of $15,000, we ran at a modest profit of around $1000."

The club re-elected Mr Hume as president.

Others elected to the committee were vice-president Ms Christine Hadaway, secretary Ms Tracey Dillon, treasurer Ms Beryl Lowry, Graham Woof, Ann Snow, George Boettiger and Felicity Fane.
